NISH, THE SERBIAN CAPITAL, IS TAKEN BY BULGAR FORCES

Opens Through Route for the Central Powers to Constantinople and Sofia.

INVASION MORE SWIFT

Allies Sending More Troops From Saloniki to Help the Serbians in the South.

London, Nov. 5.—The Bulgarians have occupied Nish, the Serbian war capital, which thus opens a through route for the Central Powers to Sofia and Constantinople. In addition the Bulgarian and German main armies have affected a junction at Krivivir, so that the campaign probably will move at a faster pace. In fact, except for the southern part of Serbia, the invasion is already gathering more headway and, despite Serbian resistence, the invading armies have all made considerable progress.

In the south, however, the allied forces appeared to be too strong for the Bulgarians who admit that they are faced by superior numbers. It is reported through the German legation at Athens that the British, French and Serbians have inflicted a severe defeat on the Bulgarians at Izvor.

Additional Allied Troops.

More allied troops are being sent from Saloniki to the scene of the fighting in the hope that they will be able by the capture of Veles to compel the Bulgarians to retire and clear the Saloniki-Mitrovitza railway so that assistance can be sent to the Serbian northern army.

All assistance that reaches the Serbians apparently must be sent by the British and French, for, despite the defeat of the Zaimis government and the triumph of Venizelos in the Greek chamber, there is no evidence that Greece intends to change her policy. It was reported this morning that M. Zaimis had undertaken to form a new cabinet, but this lacks confirmation from Athens.

There also is lack of news concerning the Russian expedition which was reported early in the week on the Rumanian frontier, while Rumania, like Greece is maintaining her neutrality in the face of agitations in the country for intervention. Russia, however, is preventing the Austro-Germans from despatching any additional troops from her front to the Balkans.

Russians Attack on Two Fronts.

The Russian armies have successfully countered Field Marshal von Hindenburg's efforts to reach Riga from the west, and are attacking both west and south of Dvinsk and on the Styr and the Stripa rivers.

In the Dvinsk sector the Russians are advancing a little but on the two southern rivers there is no change in the positions.

In the western zone the Germans continue their attacks against the new French positions in Champagne, but here, also, little grounds is changing hands.

There is evidence of renewed activity in Gallipoli and the impression prevails that another big attempt will be made to open the straits before German ammunition arrives.

NOW ACTING UNDERTAKERS ARE CAUSING TROUBLE

May Keep State From Entering Registration Area of United States.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—"The greatest trouble we have now in getting deaths reported," says Dr. J. R. Gordon of the State Board of Health," is when neighbors or friends help to put away the dead in the absence of a licensed undertaker and fail to fill out and file with the local registrar a proper death certificate. They don't seem to know," said Dr. Gordon," that when they do this, they are acting undertakers and are subject to the same laws, fines and penalties as the licensed undertaker for failure to make proper returns of a death to the local registrar." He says that there is a blank certificate placed in every coffin bought from an undertaker or dealer and that it is an easy matter to get the necessary information from any member of the family and fill in the blanks.

According to Dr. Gordon this is an important matter as itmay be the means of keeping North Carolina again from entering the registration area of the United States.

TRADING RECORDS SMASHED.

Unprecedented Wave of Prosperity Expected in Kinston Section.

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 6.—East Carolina is on the eve of the biggest wave of prosperity in its history, officials of the chamber of commerce here say. The better business period has hardly commenced, they state, and yet here for the past three weeks all trading records have been smashed. A temporary car shortage on some railroad lines has been overcome and traffic over all is heavy. Local lumber mills are working full tilt. Lenoir county for the first time in many years has shipped out this season omre corn than it has consumed. The excess so far is probably $65,000 worth. Big postal increases are being noted in most of the towns. Tobacco this week is selling far higher than in the first month of the sales season. Cotton is being marketed slowly, of course, with the slight slump in prices recently. Planters and buyers believe the market will improve shortly

TWELVE MEN AND GIRLS DIE AS FACTORY BUILDING BURNS

Bodies of Thirteen Others, Eight of Them Girls, Believed Buried in the Ruins—Of the Forty Injured, in Hospitals, Many Are Expected to Die—Disaster is Worst Factory Fire in New York in Many Years.

New York, Nov. 6. — Twelve men and girls lost their lives today in a fire that destroyed on old four-story brick and wooden factory building in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn. A search of the ruins is expected to uncover the bodies of 13 other victims, eight of them girls, who were reported as missing tonight. Of the forty injured in hospitals, many were expected to die. A score more were less seriously burned and bruised.

About 200 in Building.

The building was occupied by a candy manufacturing concern and three clothing manufacturers, whose employes normally totaled 300. More than a third had been dismissed before the fire started, for a Saturday half holiday. The flames were discovered shortly before 2 o'clock by a girl employe of the candy factory which occupied the ground floor and basement, and were soon roaring up the elevator shaft around which wound the principal stairway.

There was one other stairway in the rear of the building and some of the entrapped persons escaped by that, but bofore the firemen arrived men and women were leaping from the windows. The flames had swiftly mushroomed from the elevator shaft into the fourth floor and scarcely had the first streams of water entered the building, when the roof collapsed The other floors soon after fell one by one.

Worst Factory Fire in Years.

Today's disaster was the worst factory fire in New York since the Triangle Waist Company disaster of several years ago with its loss of 148 lives.

The flames spread so rapidly that escape for most of the employes in the building by stairs and elevator was impossible. The only fire escape became jammed. The flames drove the frightened men and women to the windows and forced them to jump. Of the 11 bodies recovered six were taken from the fire escape and four were found hanging out of windows, charred beyond recognition. Several of these were girls, burned to death in the sight of a great crowd of helpless spectators.

No one could be found tonight to tell how the fire started. Not until the list of employes in the building has been checked up and the ruins searched were the police willing tonight to believe that the death list would exceed 25. One victim, a man, died in the hospital from a fractured skull.

Investigation Started.

Coroner Wagner started an investigation of the cause of the disaster and other city officials were soon on the scene for the same purpose. They were able, however, to gain little information tonight, other than that the fire appeared to have originated in the Diamond Candy Factory, probably in the basement where the cooking was done.

The loss of life was chiefly among the employes of the Essex Shirt Company and the B. L. & W. Tailoring Company on the third and fourth floors.

TWO ARE ARRESTED

Charged With Criminal Negligence —Another Body is Found.

New York, Nov. 6.—After a preliminary investigation by the authorities tonight, Mrs. Edward L. Diamond, owner of the building, and her husband, were arrested on a charge of criminal negligence and remanded to jail without bail. Mr. Diamond said he was in the building at the time of the fire but claimed ignorance as to the cause.

Four separate investigations were under way tonight in an effort to fix the responsibility. These were by the coroner, district attorney fire marshal and police department.

One additional body, that of a man, was found in the ruins, bringing the total known victims up to 13.

CROWD GREET EMPEROR ON WAY TO CORONATION

Populace of Nagoya Gives a Brilliant Reception.

National Loyalty Displayed in Places Along Route to Kioto—Peasants Lead Children to Worship Sanctuary in Japan.

Nagoya, Japan, Nov. 7. — The Emperor, attended by the whole court, who passed last night at the Nagoya palace on his way to Kioto for the ceremonies of coronation, left Nagoya this morning and received an enthusiastic and impressive greeting from the people. The city was in brilliant festive garb. The streets were decorated with festoons of flags and lanterns and garlands of flowers. The imperial sanctuary was followed to the railway station by the carriage of the Emperor and those of the princes and princesses of the blood and other members of the retinue. The imperial train conveying the court departed amid the strains of the national anthem played by a military band and shouts of "banzai" from the populace. The Emperor was greeted with wild enthusiasm at every stopping place along the route to Kioto.

POPULACE PAYS HOMAGE.

Kioto, Japan, Nov. 6. — The progress of Emperior Yoshito from Tokio to Nagoya, the first stage of his journey to Kioto for the coronation ceremonies, was marked by a remarkable display of national loyalty. In every city and town through which the ruler passed the entire population assembled at the railroad stations and in the adjacent highways, paying homage to the Emperor and bowing low in worship to the Kashikodokoro or divine mirror, which represents the spirit of the grand imperial ancestors of Sun Goddess Amateraus Omikami, and which is a part of the Imperial sanctuary. In the rice lands the peasants, abandoning the mattocks, led their children along the railroad and worshipped the sanctuary. Everywhere the horizon was black with school children, grown people and the troops, mounted and on foot. As the Emperor entered Nagoya at dusk, the ancient castle burst into a brilliant illumination visible from afar.

Kioto is an enchanting fairyland. There is a mammoth electric monument at the railway station and the long, wide avenue leading from the station is dazzling with electric garlands.

The narrow side streets are a mass of yellow and red paper lanterns, while huge pillars of light guard the city here and there like giant modern Samurai. The Emperor is expected to arrive here Sunday afternoon.

GERMAN U-BOATS SINK THREE ALLIED VESSELS

Pass Straits of Gibraltar, into Mediterranean.

Of the Steamers Sunk, Two Were French and One Italian—Crew of One of Vessels is Missing. French Statement.

Paris, Nov. 6.—The straits of Gibraltar have again been passed by German submarines which on Thursday sank two French and one Italian steamships. The crew of one vessel is missing. The following statement was made by the marine ministry today:

"The enemy's submarines, coming from the Atlantic, passed through the straits of Gibraltar on the night of November 2. They sank on November 3 the French ship Dahra off Arzeu, Algeria, and the French ship Calvados, and the Italian ship Ionio, near Cape Ivi. The crews of the Dahra and Ionio were saved. There is no news from the crew of the Calvados."

News of the presence of a number of submarines in the Mediterranean bears out recent information from a private source to the effect that Germany had decided to send most of her submarines to the Mediterranean, having virtually abandoned her campaign in British waters in consequence of the agreements she had entered into with the United States.

In England the subject has been advanced that Germany's abandonment of her submarine campaign in English waters was due to the effective measures adopted by the British and the large number of German submarines reported to have been destroyed.

WEBB-KENYON ACT UPHELD

Constitutionality of Law Tested in Kansas Supreme Court.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 6.—The constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon act, removing the interstate character and protection from liquer shipped into a state to be used in violation of law was upheld by the Kansas Supreme court today.

The Missouri Pacific Company had appealed from a decision of a state district court fining the road $100 on each of twelve counts for delivering intoxicating liquors within the State, in violating the Mahon law, requiring railroads to file statements of the liquor shipped into the state.

Justice West held that "there is nothing more sacred about diseased meat and lottery tickets and therefore Congress has the same power to prohibit inter-state traffic in one as in the other.

VILLA, IN A RAGE, CONDEMNED THE 4 AMERICANS TO DIE

Sought Vengeance When Denied Passage of Wounded Over American Soil.

MEN ARRIVE AT NACO

Narrate Experiences as Red Cross Workers Among the Wounded of Villa's Army.

VILLA—1 1-2 6

Naco, Ariz., Nov. 6.—Four Americans released at VillaVerde yesterday by General Villa, after three times having been condemned to death, arrived here today and narrated their experiences as Red Cross workers among Villa's wounded on the battlefield of Agua Prieta. The party consists of Dr. R. H. Thigpen, Dr. Charles H. Miller and two chauffeurs, Al. Wilson and J. D. Eylant. The two physicians took to their beds upon their arrival, as a result of their experiences and an all-night tramp through the mountain.

General Villa flew into a rage, Dr. Thigpen said, when he learned that the Americans could not guarantee the passage of his wounded over American territory to Juarez. Intercession by General Rafael Naive, coupled with fear of retaliation upon families of Villa and his subordinates in the United States, was responsible for the safety of the Americans, Dr. Thigpen said.

When a subordinate reported to Villa that Carranza troops had been permitted to cross American territory to aid General Calles in defending Agua Prieta, Villa again sought vengeance upon the Americans. In a rage he heaped excoriations upon their heads and finally ordered them killed, they said. Intercession once more by General Naive saved them, said Dr. Thigpen.

The four were marched to Villaverde where the third time they were condemned to be shot. General Naive again interced. Shortly afterward they were released, to make their way as best they could.

Thigpen's home is in Sandersville, Ga., and Miller lives at Hereford, Texas. They left Naco Tuesday to render what aid they could to Villa wounded.

TURKISH MERCHANTS HELD

Villa Authorities Demand Ransom for Men at Cananea.

Naco, Ariz., Nov. 6.—All Turkish merchants in Cananea, Sonora, have been arrested and held for ransom by Villa authorities, according to advices received here late today. These advices stated that Colonel Beltran is operating in the Cananea district and has taken all supplies wanted from the stores there.

Word that General Villa with all his forces again was headed for Naco was brought here by Charles Dodds, of the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company, who said Villa had received a supply of ammunition from Nogales. Dodds reported that Villa officers had taken his teams and a load of flour when he reached Villaverde.

HICKORY SUFFERS $100,000 LOSS WHEN CITY BLOCK BURNS.

Plant of Hickory Manufacturing Company Completely Destroyed.

Hickory, N. C., Nov. 6.—Fire of undetermined origin here tonight completely destroyed the plant of the Hickory Manufacturing Company, wagon manufacturers. An entire city block was wiped out. The loss is estimated at more than $100,000. The blaze, which is believed to have originated in the boiler room of the Hickory concern, spread rapidly to other buildings and soon the block was in flames. A lumber yard adjoining also was destroyed.

Firemen and volunteers battled for several hours, but at a late hour tonight the fire still was not under control. Valuable papers in the office of the company were saved.

SAIL FOR NEW YORK.

Recruiting Sergeants Make Futile Efforts to Enlist Irishmen.

Glasgow, Nov. 6.—About 200 Irishmen eligible for military service, sailed today by the Anchor liner Californian for New York. The most strenuous efforts of seven recruiting sergeants who were authorized to promise a refund of their fares to those who enlisted resulted in the enlistment of only two men. The public were not allowed on the quay and there were no demonstrations.

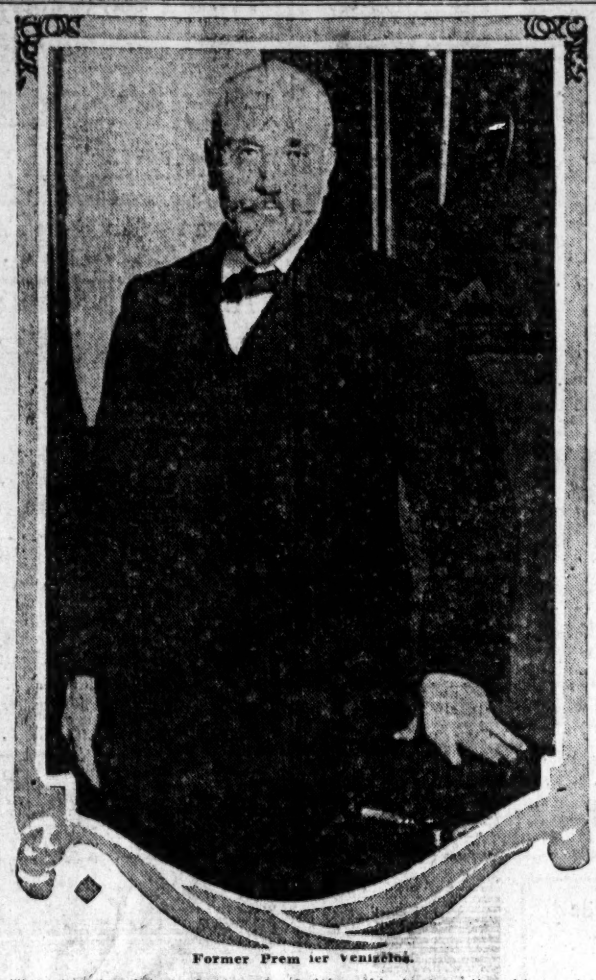
TEXTILE EXPOSITION ENDS

Will Be Made Biennial Event With Greenville, S. C., as Its Home.

Greenville, S. C., Nov. 6.—The Southern Textile Exposition closed tonight. During the five days of the exposition approximately 30,000 admissions were received at the doors. This was the first textile show ever held in the South. It has been decided to make the exposition a biennial event, with Greenville as its home.

The Southern Textile Association closed its semi-annual meeting here today. Asheville has been selected as the place for the spring meeting of the association.

NOW CALLED THE ARBITER OF GREECE.



Former Premier Venizelos.

This is the latest photograph of former Premier Venizelos, who has by his control of the parliamentary Majority in Greence overthrown the pro-German government. He has in doing this beaten the king, who is strongly pro-German, and who has tried to keep his nation from fulfilling its treaty obligations to Serbia. Venizelos is now stronger in Greece than the king himself.

NO WILSON-BRYAN ARGUMENT ON TAP

The President Will Not Enter Into Any Controversy.

HAS RIGHT TO DISAGREE

Congressman Kitchin to Confer Tomorrow With the President on National Defense and Other Matters of Moment.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—It was indicated clearly at the White House today that President Wilson will not engage in a controversy with William J. Bryan over the proposed increases in the army and navy. The President, it was said, grants to Mr. Bryan or any other citizen the right to disagree with him. It is Mr. Wilson's intention to make his appeal impersonally to the country and to avoid discussions that may provoke bitterness.

It is said that this right is granted to Majority Leader Claude Kitchin, who does not agree with him on the same subject, though Mr. Kitchin's ideas and Mr. Wilson's are not so far apart as those of the President and his former Secretary of State. Indeed, it is said Woodrow Wilson has far more respect for a man who has backbone enough to stand up for his conviction than he has for those who change every conviction they ever had the minute they enter the private offices of the President.

Kitchin Calls Tomorrow.

Mr. Kitchin will confer with Mr. Wilson Monday morning. He will not wait until November 16, as some newspapers have contended he would do The Majority Leader will reach Washington Sunday night and at an early hour Monday he will go over every phase of the National defense programme and other legislative matters that will come up during the coming session of Congress. Should Mr. Kitchin find it impossible to vote for the President's measures he will tell him so frankly. On the other hand, if Kitchin is convinced that there is any great need for appropriations as large as the President will ask for, he will not hesitate to tell Mr. Wilson that he is for the measures and take off his coat and work for their passage.

Everybody for Wilson.

Joseph F. Tayloe, chief clerk to the Senate finance committee; W. W. Leinster, confidential secretary to Senator Simmons, and Cortez L. Wright, also a member of Senator Simmons' clerical force, arrived here late last night by automobile. They will be joined by Senator Simmons some time next week. Mr. Wright, who is one of the smoothest politicians attached to the senior senator's force, says there is little interest in politics in the State aside from the fact that everybody is for President Wilson, and thoroughly approve of his foreign policies.

900 IRISHMEN ARE REFUSED PASSAGE

TO DODGE ENLISTMENT

Had Stormy Encounters With Crowds in Liverpool—Cunard Line Hereafter to Deny Passage to All British of Military Age.

Liverpool, Nov. 6.—Nine hundred Irishmen who intended to sail for New York today on the Cunard Line steamship Saxonia were prevented by the steamship company from taking passage. The company declined to permit them to sail after there had been several stormy encounters with street crowds, which took the view that able-bodied men should not be permitted to evade liability to military service in this manner. Their arrival here drew a crowd outside the steamship offices. Two of the Irishmen were knocked down by women. Others were set upon and decorated with white feathers.

Ignoring cries of "cowards," "traitors," and refusing to listen to the appeals of a recruiting sergeant, the Irishmen marched to the dock. When they arrived there the Saxonia's firemen, witnessing the street encounters and catching the spirit of the crowd, informed the steamship company they would not leave with the Saxonia if the Irishmen were permitted to sail.

The company, after a brief meeting, upheld the firemen and refused permission to sail to all British of military age. It was added that the same course would be followed in future on all Cunard liners and that it was hoped other lines would follow suit. Five of the detained men afterwards enlisted.

MANY SEEKING PASSPORTS.

Hope to Escape Compulsory Service in the British Army.

London, Nov. 6.—Daily increasing crowds of military age are besieging the foreign office, seeking passports which they hope will enable them to escape the conscription they anticipate and fear. Most of them apparently have discovered relatives in America and elsewhere whom they are obliged to visit.

The rush has been so great since the Lord Derby's recruiting scheme was promulgated that in the past three days more than 300 applicants of military age have been put back while the authorities are deciding how to deal with the situation.

The Saturday Review, referring to the crowds of Irish emigrants, demands a strict inquiry as to where the money comes from to pay the fares of these men, who are of the poorer classes, and the additional $50 which they must have on landing.

NEWS & OBSERVER PLANT DESTROYED BY A SECOND FIRE

Uzzell's Printery and Other Buildings Burned; Total Loss Nearly $350,000.

STATE LOSES HEAVILY

Manager Bagley Hurt; Two Firemen Seriously Injured, One Probably Fatally.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—For the second time the Raleigh News and Observer plant, the property of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, is destroyed by fire, the conflagration this time including a number of adjacent buildings and representing a total loss of from $350,000 to $400,000. The fire this morning was discovered about 6 o'clock on the second floor of the four-story printing house of the E. M. Uzzell Company, next door to the News and Observer building, and within an hour not only the Uzzell building, but the splendidly equipped newspaper plant of the News and Observer, the Wake Shoe Company, Baptist Book Store, J. L. O'Quinn flower store, the Crystal movie theatre and a section of the Raleigh Apartment house annex were practically total losses.

In the rush to save whatever was possible of the office records of the News and Observer, Business Manager W. H. Bagley was painfully injured. He was rushing out of the business office with an armful of books when he collided with firemen who were entering the place. He was jammed against the glass door and his left arm terribly cut. The artery was severed and several most jagged wounds inflicted that necessitated his being rushed to the Rex Hospital for treatment. The flow of blood was stopped and the wounds dressed and Mr. Bagley was back on his job looking after the interests of his newspaper and the homeless force within a couple of hours, greatly to the amazement of his anxious friends.

Two Firemen Seriously Hurt.

Two of the Raleigh firemen, D. C. Lloyd and H. L. Peebles, were fighting the fire in the Uzzell building from the roof of the Raleigh Apartment house when the wall gave way and they fell two stories into the Crystal theatre, along with a mass of hot brick and burning debris. Their emergence from this perilous situation alive is generally pronounced little short of miraculous. Both crawled out before aid could reach them, but were very seriously injured.

It is feared that Lloyd has internal injuries. It was this collapse of the wall and crashing in of the Crystal theatre and Wake shoe store that doomed these places and the Apartment house annex, in which the most serious loss was $10,000 worth of the finest of the furnishings of the old Raleigh hotel. The six-story apartment house was seriously endanger, having caught fire repeatedly. Men stationed at the windows in the different floors with fire extinguishers saved the building with the utmost difficulty. Burning curtains and bedding were repeatedly thrown from the windows on the different floors.

Newspaper's Loss Practically Total.

In the former fire that destroyed the News and Observer building on the evening of April 24, 1913, the loss was not total, all the files and other valuable portions of the plant and its equipment being saved. This time the loss is practically total, only proofs of the mailing lists and the advertising records being saved. The plant was insured for $75,000, but the loss will be considerably over $125,000. This time all the old files of the Raleigh Sentinel, the News, the Observer and the old Raleigh Chronicle were burned, along with all the splendid equipment of the newspaper plant.

Temporary Quarters Secured.

Business Manager W. H. Bagley said today that temporary news offices will be obtained in the Raleigh Times building, where the News and Observer will be printed temporarily and that the business office will be quartered for the time being in the assembly hall of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce. The newspaper will not miss an issue. Hon. Josephus Daniels was due to be in Raleigh Monday, but left Washington this morning instead, arriving here on the evening train to take a hand in the affairs of the newspaper in bringing it through the second catastrophe by fire.

The fire started on the second floor of the Uzzell building, which is owned by Mrs. Josephine VanPatton, of Norfolk, who is the sole heir of the late William Boylan. She and E. M. Uzzell owned jointly the Uzzell printery, which had large contracts with the State for printing. The building was valued at at least $60,000 and the printery it housed at more thon $100,000. Both have considerable insurance protection.

Started in Uzzell Building.

The fire started presumably from metal pot flame that had been started up by the negro janitor preparatory for the force of 40-odd printers and other workmen to come to work. When discovered the flames were coming out of the second floor windows. Within a few moments there was some sort of an explosion that seemed to spread the flames in every direction so that by the time the firemen arrived the

PRINCETON DEFEATED BY HARVARD 10 TO 6

Tigers Lose Any Claim to the Eastern Championship.

Was Fourth Consecutive Game Since 1912 Which Harvard Has Won From Princeton—Honors Belong to Crimson.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6.—Harvard University football team defeated the Princeton eleven here this afternoon 10 to 6. It was the fourth consecutive victory for the Crimson over the Tigers since 1912, and the defeat shattered all hopes of the Orange and Black to any claim to the eastern football championship of the present season.

Notwithstanding the apparent closeness of the score, the honors of victory belong chiefly to Harvard, for the contest, considered as a whole, was between the Crimson team as a combination and the individual scoring ability of Tibbott's goal kicking toe. Not once during the entire 60 minutes of play was Princeton with its vaunted attack able to batter the Harvard eleven back across the Crimson goal line. Twice during the struggle the Tigers plunged and sprinted through the Harvard team for more than two-thirds the length of the gridiron, only to be held, when a touchdown appeared imminent, by the superior defense of the Cambridge players. It was then that Captain Glick called Captain Tibbott to do what the Princeton team as a whole was unable to accomplish, and both times the Tigers scored a cleanly kicked field goal.

Against this one-man attack, Harvard showed a better rounded out campaign, which netted the Crimson a touchdown and goal and a field goal kicked by Captain Mahan to prove that Princeton did not monopolize the drop kicking honors of the day.

No football game in recent years has been played under better weather conditions. Between 25,000 and 30,000 spectators filled both sides of the Palmer general stadium, while the overflow swung around well into the horse shoe end of the structure.

Harvard gained a decided advantage over Princeton in the opening period of the game when the Crimson scored her only touchdown of the contest. Mahan gained from 8 to 12 yards on every exchange with Tibbott.

With the ball finally in her possession on Princeton's 45-yard line Mahan hurled a perfect forward pass to Harte in Princeton's 25-yard line. Two short gains was followed by a ripping line plunge in which Wing swept through a great hole between McLean and Nourse and over the line for a touchdown which Mahan quickly converted into a goal.

Mahan and Tibbott each added a field goal in the second period. Harvard's better conceived and more puzzling attack brought her within 5 yards of the Princeton goal line. Here the Tigers gave a demonstration of the traditional defense for which the Orange and Black elevens of former years have been noted. Four times they hurled the Crimson jerseyed line and backfield toward the latter's own goal and by repulsing this savage attack, regained possession of the ball within a few inches of their goal line. Driggs, standing behind the goal posts, kicked to his own 40-yard line, where Watson made a fair catch from which Mahan kicked a placement goal.

Stung by the unexpected strength and power of Harvard's attack and defense, Coach Rush's players turned loose on the Crimson the full force of the Tigers' offense. From inside here 30-yard line Princeton swept up the field toward the Harvard goal with a series of brilliantly executed line plunges and short runs just outside tackle. Three times Shea and Glick plunged against this stone wall, to be thrown without gain and it was Tibbott that finally turned the march upfield into a score by drop-kicking from the 28-yard line. Princeton's second field goal was made under almost identical conditions in the third period.

Captain Ned Mahan was the individual star of the game, due to his dodging runs, punting and goal kicking ability. He was aided far more by the Harvard linesmen and backfield than were Tibbott, Driggs or Glick, all of whom played a brilliant individual game for the Tigers.

YALE LOSES TO BROWN IN THIRD SUCCESSIVE DEFEAT

Brown Was on the Offensive for Greater Part of the Contest.

New Haven, Nov. 6.—A neat field goal from the 22-yard line by Captain Andrews in the third quarter, gave Brown its second victory over Yale in 22 years today, the score being 3 to 0. It was the third successive defeat and the fourth of this season for Yale. Brown assumed the offensive for the greater part of the contest but Yale presented stiff defense at critical junctures.

Andrews was brought into position to make his field goal by steady rushing, a 15-yard penalty against Yale for holding and a short forward pass from Purdy to Andrews. This brought the ball to the 16-yard line where Brown could not gain and had to kick.

Yale started by making 60 yards on line plunges of the "Minnesota shift" order. When near the goal line, however, the attack faltered and Yale surrendered the ball in downs on the six-yard line. Never again was Brown's goal threatened. Yale's defense showed considerable improvement over previous games.

A. & M. Defeats Gallaudet Eleven

LAST GAME OF THE SEASON ON THE AGGIES' GROUNDS—TEAM COMPOSED MOSTLY OF SECOND STRING MEN.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—In the last game of the season on the home grounds, A. & M. defeated the strong Gallaudet team of Washington, D. C., 27 to 7, today. Bonner for A. & M. kicked off and the ball was returned ten yards. As they lined up for the first scrimmage the Gallaudet left end laid on the side line unobserved and on a long forward pass he ran 75 yards for a touchdown. Coleman kicked goal.

A. & M. kicked off again, Rockwell being downed in his tracks. Gallaudet immediately punted. By end runs and line bucks, A. & M. in three minutes scored, Bonner carrying the ball over. He failed at goal. A. & M. again kicked off and soon had possession of the ball and skirted the visitors' end for another touchdown. This ended the scoring in the first quarter. The visitors threatened only once in the second half, carrying the ball to A. & M.'s five-yard line, but were held for downs. In this half A. & M. again showed their powerful attack and had no trouble in scoring two more touchdowns.

On account of injuries A. & M. sent a team on the field composed mostly of second string men, and in the last quarter all of the scrubs were given a chance. Sullivan, Rice and Bonner starred for A. & M. and Randall for Gallaudet.

ARMY LOSES TO NOTRE DAME IN A HARD FOUGHT STRUGGLE

West Point, N. Y., Nov 6.—The Army lost to Notre Dame today 7 to 0 in a well played and hard fought game. The nearest the Army came to scoring was in the last quarter when Oliphant heeled a catch on Notre Dame's 46-yard line. He tried a goal from placement, but in a strong wind the kick was an inch short, the ball striking the cross bar directly in the center. The visitors scored in the last few minutes of play. Securing the ball at midfield they began attack which took them within striking distance. A long forward pass, Cofall to Bergman, gave them the touchdown a moment later when the latter ran the remaining 35 yards to the Army goal line. Cofall kicked goal.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The University of Chicago, with a team composed chiefly of substitutes, easily defeated the Haskell Indians here today, 35 to 0. The Indians never seriously threatened the Chicago goal.

VANDERBILT LOSES TO THE VIRGINIA ELEVEN

Virginians Lay Claim to Southern Football Honors.

Result of Game Attributed to Loose Tackling and Failure of Tennesseean's Secondary Defense Score 35 to 10.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 6.—Virginia, conqueror of Yale and worthy foe of Harvard, established a claim to Southern football honors by crushing the hitherto invincible Vanderbilt team on Lambeth field this afternoon, by a score of 35 to 10. Five touchdowns, achieved through straight line plunging and end running, gave Virginia a victory. One touchdown and one field goal achieved by Vanderbilt, as a direct result of fumbles by their opponents, saved the visitors from a shut out.

After an anxious first quarter in which Cody drop-kicked the Commodores into a slender lead of three points, supporters of the Orange and Blue were never doubtful of the outcome. Virginia battered through the Vanderbilt defense in the second period for four touchdowns and the only question after that was the size of the score.

Only three forward passes were attempted during the game. Vanderbilt's two attempts were failures while the only one tried by Virginia brought the home team its third touchdown.

Mayer's consistent group gaining when called on to carry the ball in the second period turned the tide of battle toward Virginia and afterwards, as though inspired by his example, the other backs seemed to be able to gain through Vanderbilt's line and around her ends almost at will.

Virginia's interference was splendid and once the machine was under way, the Vanderbilt defense seemed to crumble Adams was powerless to stop Mayer's sweeps around his end when the opposing backfield appeared to tire of crashing through the line.

Vanderbilt's scoring was the more spectacular and was seemingly more the result of luck. A Virginia fumble had placed the ball in Vanderbilt's possession on the former's 42-yard line in the first period when Cody placed a drop kick squarely between the goal posts. The play was so sudden that several seconds elapsed before the 4,500 people who filled the great stadium realized that Vanderbilt had scored.

Vanderbilt's touchdown came in the third period when Virginia had the game already won. Virginia had the ball well in Vanderbilt territory apparently on its way towards a sixth touchdown. Little Berkeley, Virginia's ex-like quarterback, tried to elude Vanderbilt's right end. Suddenly he lost his grip on the ball. Curry, Vanderbilt's wonderful quarter, was on the oval like a flash. He flew toward Virginia's goal line at top speed. Thurman, the only Virginian near him, pursued only to fall headlong at the Tennesseean's heels as he crossed the goal line almost out of bounds.

Virginia appeared to be heavier, but football experts tonight attributed the result to Vanderbilt's loose tackling and the failure of her secondary defense.

It was not only Vauderbilt's first defeat of the year but the first game in which she had been scored against. Curry's touchdown today marked the second time Virginia's goal line had been crossed this season, Georgia two weeks ago having been the other team to do so.

Virginia's first touchdown came early in the second period. Vanderbilt had the ball in the middle of the field and after trying in vain to penetrate the Orange and Blue's line, a forward pass was attempted on the third down. Curry's throw was high and other Adams' head.

Vanderbilt was then forced to punt and Zerfoos' hefty effort was blocked. White fell on the ball. Then on Vandy's forty-yard line, Buck Mayer, Virginia's great halfback was called on to take the ball. Mayer headed full sail around Vanderbilt's left end. He had no interference to speak of. Six tacklers made futile dives at the speedy back but he passed them all and planted the ball safely behind the goal posts. A great shout went up from the happy crowd and never afterwards did they have cause to fear the outcome.

Mayer made a thirty-yard run almost equally brilliant a few seconds later after Vanderbilt had kicked off. Berkeley then found Vanderbilt's wavering left end for twelve yards on a quarterback run. Vandy was penalized five yards for offside play. Then followed a series of line plunges, by Sparr, Anderson and Mayer for short gains in one of which Vanderbilt was penalized for tackling Anderson with unnecessary roughness. The ball was then on Vanderbilt's two-yard line. Sparr hit the line for one yard on the third down and Mayer took the ball over for Virginia's second touchdown.

Virginia's third touchdown was on a forward pass. After Vanderbilt had kicked off, Anderson ran the ball back to the middle of the field in a fine run. Mayer made 25 yards more around the left end after which Virginia resorted to line plunges, bringing the ball to the five-yard line. With another touchdown imminent, the Commodores braced and held, the ball going over on the fourth down. Disaster was staved off only temporarily, as Mayer, after Vanderbilt had punted, took the ball around the left end again for 25 yards. The ball was on Vanderbilt's 15-yard line. The ball was snapped and Berkeley made as though to plunge through the line. Thurman came running back from the line, took the ball and made a beautiful throw to White who had already crossed the goal line.

A fine 40-yard run by Anderson was largely responsible for Virginia's fourth touchdown in this period. Virginia's last touchdown made in the third period was largely the result of a fine open field run by Berkeley netting him 25 yards. Then Anderson made ten yards through the line, going on the next play for a touchdown.

The fourth quarter was scoreless. Vanderbilt had a number of fresh substitutes who made several short gains. Virginia advanced the ball to the 25-yard line where Thurman tried a field goal but failed.

CAROLINA VICTORIOUS OVER CLEMSON, 9 TO 7

Tar Heels Possessed "Drive" Heretofore Lacking

Clemson Kept on Defensive—Tandy Was Out of Game and it is Believed Carolina Could Have Made Bigger Score.

Greenville, S. C., Nov. 6.—North Carolina defeated Clemson college here this afternoon by a score of 9 to 7, though it was the general opinion that the Tar Heels could have made a larger score had they desired. The "drive" heretofore lacking in the backfield of the North Carolina aggregation was apparent. Tayloe, MacDonald, Reid and Parker drove great gaping holes in the Tiger line and the secondary defense was necessary to stop the Tar Heels.

Clemson scored on a fluke, when Harris intercepted a forward pass and raced 40 yards. Three tackle plays and a plunge by McMillan over Center, scored Clemson's lone touchdown.

Clemson fought on the defensive throughout and it is the general belief that had Tandy, the veteran North Carolina center, been in the game, the score would have been greater. Captain Tayloe left the field in the last minute when his shoulder was injured. He was not badly hurt.

The first half ended with the ball inside Clemson's one-yard line. The game ended with the ball inside Clemson's five yard line. Both times it was first down.

The line-up and summary:

Homewood	RE	Harmon
Boshamer	RT	Littlejohn
Tayloe	RG	Cannon
Jones, J.	C	Randle
Cowell	LG	Suggs
Ramsay	LT	Magill
Love	LE	Poole
Tayloe, D.	RHB	Harris
MacDonald	LHB	Dailey
Reid	QB	McMillan

IS BASEBALL WANTED HERE?

Mass Meeting of Local Fans Will be Held Tomorrow Night, to Discuss Entering One of Leagues.

Does Wilmington really want to get into either the North Carolina or Virginia baseball leagues? That is the question that local fans want answered immediately, now that this city has the opportunity of getting a berth in one of these organizations. To determine just how much interest there is here in this proposition, a mass meeting has been called to be held in the Court House tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock and it is important that everyone interested atttend.

A meeting of the club owners of the Virginia League is to be held in Norfolk on November 18th and at that time the disposal of the franchise dropped by Petersburg will be considered. One of the matters to be taken up at the local mass meeting tomorrow night is whether or not this city shall send a representative to Norfolk to attend the meeting. There are good reasons for believing that if Wilmington really wants to get into this league that she can do so, in spite of the fact that Hopewell, Va., is making a strong bid.

There is also a possibility of Wilmington taking the franchise which Winston-Salem had in the North Carolina League, as that club has dropped out, and no disposition of it has yet been made.

As the Sporting Life states this week, "It pours for Wilmington," and it is strictly up to the local fans to get busy if they want to have real baseball next season.

"Wilmington, after being denied baseball for two years," says Sporting Life, "now has the prospects of being bid for by two leagues, and in that case it will be up to the city to make choice. The North Carolina League will be lacking a city, because of the withdrawal of Winston-Salem, and the Virginia League wants a city to replace Petersburg. One of Wilmington's most ardent baseball fans, J. W. Blommie, has received a letter from J. O. Boatwright, president of the Virginia League, stating that there may be a vacancy next year, and while he does not say Wilmington will get the opportunity to join the league, he leaves the impression that such will be the case. It was announced several weeks ago that Winston-Salem had withdrawn from the North Carolina League and Wilmington will likely have the opportunity, if it desires, to take her place."

That's the situation in brief, and it is Wilmington's next move, and what that shall be will be determined at the meeting tomorrow night.

DAVIDSON BEATS FURMAN.

Hill Makes Broken Field Run of 70 Yards—Score of 58 to 13.

Davidson, N. C., Nov. 6. — A broken field run of 70 yards by Hill featured a 58 to 13 victory of Davidson over Furman University this afternoon. With the first string men playing in regular form, the South Carolinians were helpless. Near the close of the game, Furman gained enough over scrubs to register two touchdown-

FORT CASWELL DOWNS TIGERS

Fine Exhibition of Football at Hilton Park—Score Was 12 to 7 in Favor of the Visitors.

In a fierce struggle at Hilton Park yesterday afternoon the hefty eleven from Fort Caswell defeated the strong Wilmington Tigers by the close score of 12 to 7, this being one of the best games of football that has been witnessed in this city this season. Although the soldier team outweighed the Tigers by about 20 pounds to the man, the latter put up a stubborn defense and the Caswell players knew that they had been in a real football scrimmage when the final whistle blew.

When the gong sounded for the first kick-off, the Tigers received it and carried it to their own 45-yard line, where they were forced to kick. The Fort then began a steady march down the field but the Tigers held them for down on the 12-yard line. The Tigers then kicked out of danger and neither side scored in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the Fort worked the ball to their own 30-yard line when a beautiful forward pass, Mahoney to Killam, carried the pigskin over for the first touchdown. Score: Fort 6; Tigers 0. No further scoring was done in this half.

In the second half, the Tigers kicked to the Fort. The ball worked up and down the field for a while and then on an attempted forward pass, Wagner to Taylor, Gillam blocked the ball just after it left Wagner's hand and catching it, raced 45 yards for a touchdown. Mahoney again missed goal. Fort 12; Tigers 0. There was no further scoring in this quarter.

In the last quarter the Tigers worked the ball to the Fort's 15-yard line when a pretty forward pass, Wagner to LeGwin, carried the ball over for the Tigers' first and only score. Wagner kicked goal. Fort 12; Tigers 7. This seemed to give the Tigers renewed spirits for they gained better than they had any time previously, but just as they got into the Fort's territory, they lost the ball on an attempted forward pass. The game ended with the ball in the Fort's possession.

Kelly, for the Tigers, played the best game of any man on his team, often throwing the Fort back for heavy losses and getting about every other tackle. LeGwin also played a good game, making the longest run of the contest for 55 yards on an intercepted forward pass. Shore played a good steady game, as also did Lewis. Harris played great ball until he was forced to retire with a broken rib.

The bright particular star, however, was Gillam, the Fort's hefty halfback, who made gains almost at will and played a great defensive game. Mahoney and Moore likewise played fine ball as did the other members of the team.

The Line-Up.

Tigers		Fort Caswell
Shannon	RE	Larrymore
Davis	RT	Aren
Brown	RG	Anderson
Lewis	C	Eck
Wood	LG	Estis
Kelly	LT	Fitzsimmons
Shore	LE	Fall

The Score

Fort Caswell	0	6	6	0	—12
Tigers	0	0	0	7	— 7

Substitutions, for Tigers—Taylor for Houston, Johnson for Shannon, Galloway for Wood, Shannon for Johnson, Houston for Taylor, Taylor for Harris, For Fort—None. Touchdowns: Gillam 2; LeGwin 1. Goal from touchdown, Wagner.

Officials—Huntington (Davidson) referee; Burnett (Carolina), umpire; Houston (Trinity) head lineskeeper; Woods (Fort) head linesman. Time of game: 12, 12, 15, 15.

JOE MILLER TO WRESTLE

Puts Up Purse to Be Forfeited if He Does Not Reduce Weight.

Arrangements for a wrestling match between Fritz Hanson and Joe Miller, an Austrian, have been made. The match will take place Friday night. Miller is considerably heavier than Hanson, weighing 168 pounds but he has put up a purse of $100, according to the promoters, to be forfeited if he does not reduce his weight to 160 pounds by Friday night. Miller is already in the city and has begun training for the bout.

WASHINGTON AND LEE HOLDS ROANOKE ELEVEN SCORELESS

Lexington, Va., Nov. 7.—Washington and Lee defeated Roanoke College here today, 21 to 0. The game was largely in Roanoke territory and not once did the Salem team threaten the Generals' goal line. Washington and Lee gained the first touchdown in the second period when Ignico blocked a kick on the five yard line and went over for a score.

CORNELL ELEVEN VICTORIOUS OVER UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 6.—Barrett's great open field running and ability to crash through Michigan's line at opportune moments was an important factor in the 34 to 7 victor which the football eleven of Cornell scored over Michigan here today. In the second period he electrified the crowd by a snaky run of 30 yards after catching a punt.

NAVY, LITTLE IMPROVED, MANAGES TO BEAT BUCKNELL

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 6.—Although Navy's eleven showed little improvement in attack or defense, they managed to defeat Bucknell today 13 to 3. The midshipmen were unable to tally in the first period, but the visitors scored a field goal a short time after the contest started.

Auburn, Ala., Nov. 6.—Auburn ran roughshod over Mercer today and piled up a 45 to 0 score. The plainsmen started the games with a rush and scored on straight line plays in the first three minutes. Auburn showed nothing but straight football.

GEORGIA TECHS WIN FROM ALABAMA ELEVEN; SCORE 21 TO 7

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 6.—Georgia Tech defeated Alabama 21 to 7 here today in a football game lacking in the spectacular elements generally expected. Tech relied entirely upon straight football, using its ends and backfield alternately to skirt Alabama's ends and tackles. Tech scored in each of the first three periods. Alabama scored in the final period when Stevenson captured a forward pass from Vandergraaf and raced 25 yards across the Tech goal line.

WAKE FOREST IS DEFEATED BY VIRGINIA CADETS, 21 TO 6

Carolinians Put Up Plucky Fight —Scored in Final Period.

Lexington, Va., Nov. 1.—Virginia Military Institute today defeated Wake Forest 21 to 6 in a hard fought game. The Carolinians put up a plucky fight although they were unable to cross the cadets goal line until the final period. The Virginians used the forward pass to advantage. Their last score was made by run of seventy yards by Harris for touchdown, which was the most sensational play of the game.

WAKE FOREST FRESHMEN ARE DEFEATED BY SOPHOMORES.

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 6.—The Wake Forest sophomores defeated the freshmen today 14 to 6 in their annual football game. The game was characterized by costly fumbles and numerous misplays on each side. Savage, the sophomore halfback, scored both touchdowns, circling the ends each time from the 20-yard line. He kicked both goals from touchdowns.

CAROLINA PEOPLE TELL OF STOMACH REMEDY

Sufferers Find Swift Relief by Use of Remarkable Treatment.

Stomach sufferers in the Southeast and, in fact, all over the country have found remarkable and efficient results from the use of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy.

Many have taken this remedy and tell today of the benefits they received. Its effects come quickly—the first dose convinces. Here is what two Carolina folks have written:

W. R. DAVENPORT, Parker, N. C.—"For years I have suffered from a disease which puzzled doctors. I heard of your remedy and one bottle gave me relief. Your full treatment has about cured me."

J. E. ERWIN, Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I am satisfied through personal use of the powers of your remedy. You have saved my life."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

Diamonds win out over the roads you know

It is a perpetual battle between tires and roads—and victory is hard-earned.

The strength and toughness of the rubber in Diamond Squeegee Tread Tires resists the roughest road wear—yawning ruts do not take toll from Diamond Squeegees.

Tried for years—on every road that leads in or out of this city—on all makes of cars—Diamond Squeegees have proven their unfailing superiority, and more than satisfy car owners.

We have almost discontinued making smooth treads, because the small (less than 10%) increase we ask for Squeegee treads has made Diamond Squeegees so popular that 90% of the Diamond Tires sold to consumers are Squeegee Treads.

Squeegees were put on the market because they proved to be the most satisfactory non-skid tire—tests prove that in addition to this the Squeegee construction (more rubber where the wear is hardest) makes Squeegees the best Long Distance tire at the price.

Diamond "Fair-List" Prices:

Size	Diamond Squeegee	Size	Diamond Squeegee
30 x 3	$ 9.45	34 x 4	$ 20.35
30 x 3½	12.20	36 x 4½	28.70
32 x 3½	14.00	37 x 5	33.90
33 x 4	20.00	38 x 5½	46.00

TOP O' THE MORNING

There is but one thing that can never turn into suffering, and that is the good we have done. —MAETERLINCK.

The ladies uber alles, but not in politics for some time yet.

Now is the best time to do what we ought to do for Wilmington.

With most men, when they do you a favor, they think you owe them the next one.

Probably interstate commerce will not be able to recognize itself some of these days.

What a beautiful day this is to go to church and get in a more earnest state of mind.

Doubtless no one has to tell the Hon Murphy what the election means in little old New York.

Win with Wilson for adequate national preparedness and grin with the majority at the chagrin of the minority.

"Rumanian hesitation"? No, that's not any new fangled dance, for Rumania is not taking any steps towards hostilities.

So long as the belligerent nations reject peace proposals it indicates that none considers itself ready to call for the calf rope.

The reason why the beneficiaries of a protective tariff insist on protection is that it enables them to get something for nothing.

Opportunity is knocking on Senator Root's door, but he must wonder why it didn't knock twenty years ago when he was young enough to hear it knock.

An old-fashioned gentleman says if it were possible for him to be young again, he would be in a bad fix if he didn't have an automobile to keep up with the times.

Well, some things are intended for jokes but they are not, while some things not intended for jokes naturally drift into the class of absurdities. Colonel Bryan has taken it on himself to oppose national precaution against possibilities—but what's the use to get personal when some of his monologues set the nation to roaring with laughter?

The Star regrets very deeply the disaster which befell the Raleigh News and Observer in the loss of its building and equipment by fire. The plant was an exceedingly valuable one and at best the loss must be heavy and serious. It is all the more deplorable owing to the fact that only about two and a half years ago, in April, 1913, The News and Observer plant was almost completely destroyed by fire. With unsurpassed courage and heroic initiative, the "Old Reliable" rose—no just rose—amid the smouldering ruins and came forth brighter and more dauntless than ever. Again we expect to see our esteemed and valued contemporary perform another masterful feat in coming back in its pristine glory.

Says the Columbia State: "Are we not all a law-abiding people? The general assembly last winter enacted a law against tipping. So far as we are informed, this statute has not been violated once. At least we have not heard of any person being tried for or accused of violating it." Secondly, in the first place, how could a mere general assembly deprive an editor of his constitutional right and pleasure to loan, bequeath, give away and scatter to the four winds of earth a hamper basket full of money, when he has plenty more—to get?, After an editor has been served faithfully by his retinue of servants and they have gotten up all times of night to find the keyhole for him, what legislature can say that he cannot drop $5 williams around so they can be picked up with the understanding that they are not tips but discarded currency?

SACRED DUTY VS. THE LURE OF THEORY.

The Hon. William J. Bryan has taken the trouble to formally announce his opposition to President Wilson's adequate preparedness programme. Owing to the fact, however, that the distinguished Nebraskan isn't on the programme to play a part, he can only be recognized as just one of the audience who refuses to applaud with all the rest. The Colonel, as a matter of course, has a perfect right to tell where he stands, but the majority of Americans refuse in a languid way to be interested in the excuse he feels called upon to render. He is entitled to speak for himself, but it is to be hoped that he is not obsessed of the idea that inspired the three Tooley Street tailors who met and sent in a signed petition beginning, "We, the people of England." There were only three of them, while in this instance Colonel Bryan has acted as a committee of one, "without waiting for the action of any other nation."

Americans are not willing to take the risk of letting their ideals as to world peace keep them from making America secure in the event that other nations should desire to disturb her peace. We can assure ourselves that we are for peace but we can't rest assured that other nations can be relied upon to "keep the peace." Precedents are too numerous as well as too recent for Americans to leave their country at the mercy of nations whose natural characteristic is aggression, the result of which is making the whole continent of Europe tremble with the roar of battle. Even the sea is neither free nor safe for us during a war in which we have no part, and we now actually see ourselves without adequate preparedness to compel respect for the lives and the property and the commerce of Americans, even with neutral countries.

We might depend partly upon America's isolation as a means of our protection from successful invasion, but we can not trust alone to peace ideals for American security from attack. We cannot rely too confidently upon our own fancied idea that we do not antagonize other nations and peoples, and certainly we have no reason to look to the world powers for utopian ideals in keeping with our own.

No wise American can be persuaded by platitudes and sophistries and eloquent periods and fervent rhetoric that his country is safe while the world nations possess the greatest navies, the mightiest armies and the most awful engines of war in all the history of the world. Practically all the world has on its war clothes, the big guns of their monster navies are shotted, and their vast hosts are armed for battle, and yet we are asked by Colonel Bryan to contemplate the ideality and the sweetness of world peace. No specious argument and no sonorous appeal can lure Americans away from the common sense conclusion that the nation with the safest nationality is the nation which is prepared to protect itself.

We listen to the sweet voice of peace but we heed the call of the American nation for us to observe a sacred duty to it by protecting it from possible destruction. This Nation was cradled in war, the Union was preserved in war, and it is not impossible that it will have to be perpetuated in war.

Americans who possess their reasoning faculties will recognize their sacred duty to the "Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave." Not like the celestials of the Orient, will vigilant Americans be lured by the fatalism of theories and ideals from a profound and sacred duty they owe to themselves, to their liberty and to their country.

Yet awhile and all the while, their national slogan and patriotic precept will be: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty!" Americans will also depend on it for national safety and security.

It is not fear but determination and wisdom and patriotism that will inspire and impel Americans to follow the lead of Woodrow Wilson for sane and adequate preparedness for safety as America's own guarantee of protection and peace for her people, regardless of the possibility of world peace.

N ONE OF THE BEAR FACTORS

Cotton speculators and consumers in America and Europe keep a closer eye on the cotton crop than do the cotton growers. They put their money in it to the tune of practically a billion dollars in cash for spots and options, and men always are careful about putting their money in any commodity or business in which they reasonably expect to gain a profit. Well, the cotton dealing class makes it their business not to pay big prices for cotton when they have reason to believe the price will be lower because the supply will be greater. Cotton recently fell below the 12c level because the bears furnished arguments that the bulls could not get around.

While the South was selling cotton at 12 cents and hoping to sell more this year and a lot more next year at something like the same price, the farmers went right ahead and furnished the bears with an argument to cut down the price. Nobody will pay 12 cents when he expects the price to go lower before he can dispose of his holdings and cause him to lose money, so cotton buyers dropped their prices to correspond with the prospects for a greater supply and necessarily cheaper cotton. The greater the supply the cheaper the commodity, the bears argued, and they based it on news they got from the South. They got the news from the cotton growers who furnished them a hammer to beat down the price.

One of the main arguments made by the bears was that a bigger crop of cotton would be raised next year and consequently buyers who could get cheaper cotton next year need not necessarily pay high prices this year. They heard in New York, for instance, that Southern farmers were not going to plant as much grain as they did this year but expected to increase the acreage which they would devote to cotton in 1916. You don't have to tell a bear what the result of that course would mean, so he goes up to the big blackboards and marks down the price. It is this sort of news, taken from the Statesville Landmark, that makes the bears wise:

"A seed and fertilizer dealer of 'wide acquaintance' has 'put out the word' that the farmers are reducing the small grain acreage with a view to planting more cotton next year. They'll plant more cotton next year—you can depend on that; but here's hoping they'll not reduce the acreage of food and feedstuffs."

The foregoing is news from North Carolina, but it is just like the news from all over the South. If we were a bear or you were a bear, you would figure it out in exactly the same way. The difference between a bear and a bull is that a bear is from Missouri while a bull has pipe dreams and goes right ahead till the bears get him. It is for the farmers to help out the bulls instead of the bears, and for that reason the Savannah News repeats this sound advice:

"The Dublin Courier-Herald gives sound advice to Georgia farmers when it urges them not to let the present price of cotton prevent the planting of wheat, oats, rye, barley and legume crops. While there is no reason to be so pessimistic as to anticipate that cotton may be selling below the production cost this time next year, it is important to guard against an optimism that will make the planting of diversified crops appear unnecessary."

The farmers can help out either the bulls or the bears, just as they like. They are in the boat and they can rock it with themselves if they like, just so they promise not to make a bit of noise when they are floundering in deep water a year hence.

THE MATTAMUSKEET DEVELOPMENT.

The Washington (N. C.) News reports that visitors from Hyde county in the last few days bring accounts of amazing progress in the work of draining Lake Mattamuskeet. Rapid progress is being made and a vast sum of money is being spent to reclaim what will be a region as fertile as the silted lands of the Nile. We get this idea of it from The News:

"A contract has been let for a big hotel, roads are being built, concrete bridges are being constructed and work on the pumping plant is going forward rapidly. A contract has been let for a 30-room hotel, which is to be put up by T. C. Thompson, of Charlotte. The structure will be three stories high, will be steam heated and fitted out with modern plumbing. Large quantities of the machinery for the pumping plant are arriving daily. The foundation for the pumps are all in and all but one set of pumps are on the ground. Boilers are being set. A contract has already been let for a small concrete bridge and other bridges will undoubtedly follow in short order. Roads are being built alongside of the canals, from the dirt that has been thrown up by the dredges. This makes an excellent highway. A number of the roads are already opened for traffic."

This is one of the biggest developments going on in North Carolina. A huge amount of capital is invested in it, and when the rich alluvial lake lands are reclaimed a great settlement and farms enterprise will be carried out on a scale that will not be be exceeded in its magnitude anywhere in America.

Americans have no reason to criticise their government for some of its mistakes. They ought to love it for not being guilty of crimes like some other governments in different parts of the world. We ought to know when to be happy, and that more than ever we have every reason to be happy on Thanksgiving Day.

"Home is woman's place" and so far's that is concerned nobody can dispute it. When a man thinks it is his, he had better go to throwing things around if he wants to be called a nuisance instead of the head of the family. This is no joke.

The Republicans have explained it to their satisfaction and the Democrats have given a cheering analysis of their own, but the Bull Moose party does not even offer an apology. The reason is that the Bull Moose party wasn't in it.

The South once more has learned what the October rush of cotton to the market means. The willingness of the growers to sell is taken as evidence that the price is up too high.

People are pleased when you treat but become disgusted when you retreat.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"People do not move to counties that have bad roads." That is a remark of the Greenville Reflector and it is a center shot in ringing the bell that directs people to move to counties which have good roads. Good roads, population and prosperity go together.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The present and prospective price of commercial fertilizers of all sorts is the surest guarantee of a small cotton crop next year. The farmer who has a bunch of cattle and saves a good lot of stable manure this winter will be the only one who can hope to produce an economical crop. Those who buy fertilizers at ruling prices can not hope to grow a profitable crop while those who use no fertilizer can not expect much of a crop.—Sumter Item.

It is said the razor-back hog in Texas is getting to be a thing of the past. This section of North Carolina got rid of him several years ago through the stock law, which required every person who owned hogs to keep them in an enclosure. The improved breeds then took the place of the "aborigines." But do not worry, Florida still has plenty of them and they are allowed to roam at large and root hog or die in the Land of Flowers just as they did in the Old North State back in the good old days "When you and I were young, Maggie."—Wilkesboro (N. C.) Patriot.

A Newbern merchant who, up until a few weeks ago had never been addicted with the advertising habit, has tried it out and, finding that his business increased by leaps and bounds, has not only decided to be a regular advertiser but has doubled his space. When a man who for years and years has stuck to the belief that advertising does not pay, finds out his error and goes in for publicity on a large scale, that should be ample proof to those who do not advertise, that they are losing money every day they to use printers' ink.—Newbern Sun.

An old lady, Ascenith Cox by name, died in Randolph county. There was some trouble with the will and while making a search of the premises for hidden wealth the sum of $5,000 in cash was dug up. This stirred up more trouble. The county commissioners who are on their job, immediately ordered this money listed for five years' taxation and on top of that added 25 per cent as a penalty for failure to list. If this money had been put in a good bank it would have been doing some one good and the present trouble would have been avoided.—Smithfield Herald.

Rock Hill now has a modern flour mill in operation. The mill was started Saturday morning and worked satisfactorily. The mill is located to the rear of J. C. Hardin & Co.'s place of business and is owned by them. The corn mill, which was put in operation several days ago, is also giving complete satisfaction. The bour mill has a capacity of 25 barrels per day and will be able not only to handle everything in this section for the present, but also to furnish flour to the merchants under a special brand of their own if they wish. They have a sacking arrangement and everything modern. Mr. Hardin requests the farmers and business men of this section to come and see the plant in operation.—Rock Hill Record.

CONFEDERATE WOMAN'S HOME TO BE FORMALLY OPENED NOV. 18

Governor Craig and Staff to Be Present and Participate.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 6.—The announcement was made today by the board of directors of the Confederate Woman's Home, erected here by the State, that the home will be formally opened on Thursday evening, November 18. Governor Craig and his staff will be present to make the presentation, on behalf of the State. The advisory board of the State chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the directors of the home will jointly give a reception to the public on the evening of the opening. The Governor and his staff will be in the receiving line.

The directors and advisory board want every chapter of the U. D. C. in the State to send representatives to the opening and reception, and take this means of inviting them. No formal invitations will be sent out. All who expect to attend are requested to notify Mrs. E. R. MacKethan, Chairman of the Hospitality Committee, Fayetteville, N. C.

ANOTHER MISTRIAL IN THE WITTE DAMAGE SUIT

Alimony Ordered Paid in Pending Suits for Divorce

Superior Court Adjourns After Two Weeks' Season—Holly Insurance Case Settled—Many Orders and Judgments.

For the second time in Superior Court the jury was unable to agree as to a verdict in the case of Sarah C. Witte, administratrix, against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company and the Schloss-Bear-Davis Company, and after having been out since Friday at noon, were discharged by Judge Frank A. Daniels yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and a mistrial ordered. The trial of the case was begun Monday and took up practically the entire week. The entire day in Superior Court yesterday was spent in hearing motions and signing of judgments and orders by the court. At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon court adjourned and Judge Daniels returned to his home in Goldsboro to spend the week-end before going to Burgaw tomorrow to hold court.

Judge Daniels yesterday afternoon issued orders for allowances in two suits for divorce which are now pending in Superior Court and directed that each of the defendants in the two actions pay $25 a month to their wives until the cases come to trial. The plaintiff in one of the actions is Mrs. Anne Leah Smith who seeks a divorce from her husband, Mr. Percy L. Smith, and the plaintiff in the second suit is Mrs. Helen B. Adams, who is seeking a divorce from her husband, Mr. J. J. Adams.

In the suit brought by Sarah C. Witte against the Atlantic Coast Line and the Schloss-Bear-Davis Company, the plaintiff is seeking to recover $50,000 alleged damages on account of the death of her father, who was killed near the Atlantic Coast Line station on April 1, 1913, by being struck by a team, owned by the Schloss-Bear-Davis Company. The first trial of the case resulted in a mistrial and in the second trial which was confined to the railroad company, the Schloss-Bear-Davis Company not being represented on account of the illness in the family of one of the members of the firm, the jury returned a verdict of $5,000. The defendant appealed to the Supreme Court and was granted a new trial. It was ordered by the court yesterday that the case be the first one to be taken up at the December term of Superior Court.

The case of J. C. Holly against the Greensboro Life Insurance Company was settled out of court yesterday. The plaintiff in the case was suing for $2,500, this being the amount of insurance carried on Edward Cromwell, Holly's ward, who lost his life when the Rock Springs hotel was burned. Holly was the manager of the hotel and was tried several times on charges of murder and arson but was finally acquitted. Because of the circumstances surrounding the death of Holly's ward, the insurance company refused to make payment. It is understood that the settlement was that the plaintiff should receive $1,250, half of the amount that was sued. Holly was represented in this case, by C. D. Weeks and William J. Bellamy, Esqs., who also represented him in the trials for murder and arson which resulted in his acquittal.

In the case of the Northern Fruit Company against the Seaboard Air Line railroad, for the recovery of the cost of a carload of bananas, which it was claimed were damaged in transit, the jury returned a verdict of $197 for the defendant, but the court ordered that this to be set aside. The court stated that the verdict would be allowed to stand if the plaintiff would agree to reduce to $160 but J. Felton Head Esq., their attorney, refused to consent to this. Hon. John D. Bellamy appeared for the defendants.

The following judgments were rendered by the court yesterday:

Brenard Manufacturing Co., against J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., judgment for $596 with inteerst on $550 from October 25, 1915.

C. H. Russell & Son against the Currie Co., and D .M. Currie, judgment, $212.85 with interest from June 27, 1914.

Manufacturers' Supply Company against Hodges Bros., judgment $1,222.68 with interest from January 1, 1914.

Liquid Carbonic Co., against E. G. Fike, et al., judgment $810 with interest from October 31, 1915.

Judgment for non-suit was ordered by the court in the following cases: W. B. Cooper Co., against Carolina Coast Products Co.; Hall Towing Company against Wilmington Lumber Co.; C. H. Squires Son & Co., against R. A. Wright & Co.; Phil G. Kelly Co. against O. E. Merritt; William Athner against L. J. Carter, et al.; E. Pridgen against Ellen Acker; D. N. Chadwick against the Fisheries Co., et al.; Atlantic Trust and Banking Co., against L. L. Hanby.

A large number of cases on the docket were ordered to be continued until the next term while orders were made in a number of others.

BOYS OF Y. M. C. A. TO HAVE ATTENDANCE CONTEST.

Mr. Ben Thees Will Make Address This Afternoon—Music.

The Boys' League of the Boys' Division of the Y. M. C. A. will begin a two-months' contest for attendance today. The contest will be between two groups to be known as the "Hustlers" and the "Boosters." The Boosters have taken the right of the boys' lobby and the Hustlers the left. The colors are red and green, the Hustlers using the red ticket for admission and the Boosters a green ticket. Tickets of both colors will be given out by the boys of the various Sunday schools. There are five clubs in each division and the attendance will be based on five points for all club members. Bringing a visitor will also score five points.

The programme for this afternoon will be of special interest. Mr. Ben A. Thees will deliver the first "live wire" message in the series of talks which begin today. His subject will be "As a Boy Thinketh." Mr. Thees is popular with the boys as a Sunday school worker and his address will be heard with interest.

The music committee has arranged a splendid musical programme. The Boys' League has an orchestra of eight pieces, which guarantees good music for each Sunday. All boys in the city over 12 years old are cordially invited.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT HOLD UP

Quickness of Mr. H. M. Hodges Spoils Scheme of Two Daring Negroes to Rob Him Near Winter Park.

The quick eye, steady nerve and his strong right arm saved Mr. H. M. Hodges, superintendent of the Southern Drainage & Construction Company, which has the contract for the Winter Park drainage district project, from being robbed of $350 when he was held up yesterday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock on the road running south from Winter Park Gardens by two negroes, who demanded that he turn over the money to them. Mr. Hodges came to the city yesterday morning to get the money and after eating dinner at Winter Park Gardens had started to the point where his force were at work.

When about three-quarters of a mile from Winter Park Gardens and not far from the home of Mr. George Tiencken, he was suddenly surprised by the two negroes who leaped out of some bushes near the road. "All right, let us have the money," one of them demanded. Mr. Hodges thrust his hand back as if to get the money from his pocket and came back with a strong Jim Jeffries punch that landed square under the jaw of the smaller of the two negroes, who was of a ginger color, and he went sprawling to the ground. Before the other negro could reach him, Mr. Hodges had gotten his Smith and Wesson pistol from his other pocket and seeing the gun, the other negro, who was large, very black and tall, ran for the tall timbers and his companion did likewise, both disappearing in the woods.

Mr. Hodges called to them to stop but probably they did not hear him and when he pulled the trigger of the revolver five times in succession without it's being discharged a single time, Mr. Hodges thought that there must be something wrong. Examination of the gun showed that there was not a bullet in it and Mr. Hodges declared last night that this was all that saved one of the negroes from being shot. Sometimes, however, an unloaded gun is as good as a loaded one.

After running after the negroes for a short distance, Mr. Hodges returned to Wilmington and informed County Officer H. Mack Godwin of what had occurred. They went back but saw nothing of the negroes, although Mr. Hodges is positive that he can identify them if he sees them again.

Mr. Hodges, after coming to the city to get the money returned to Winter Park Gardens on the car arriving there about noon. Hhe boards there and got dinner before setting out for the point where the ditching is now going on, about one mile south of that suburb and about four miles southeast of Wilmington. Mr. Hodges thinks that most likely the two negroes who attempted the bold robbery, were on the same car that he went down on as there were a number aboard, although he did not take particular note of any of them at that time.

Mr. Hodges stated last night that he did not care to repeat the experience and was thankful that it turned out as well as it did. He thinks the negroes were sure that he had the money as they demanded it with a very confident air.

COLORED MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS

Enthusiastic Meetings Held at Williston Colored Industrial School.

(Contributed.)

The arbor day exercises at the Williston industrial school were a great success. With 1,100 or more school children present, one could not but feel encouraged and hopeful for the future. The hearty response of the ministers, parents and friends of education to the invitations sent them was another gratifying phase and an evidence of their interest. The only regret was that time and circumstances did not permit of their all speaking.

The address of Rev. Dr. Wilson, of St. Stephen's church, who spoke for the ministers, was very timely, strong and helpful.

Our white friends did not forget us either. Some of those who could not come sent us their donations with expressions of interest in the effort being put forth. Each member of the committee of the Williston Industrial school was foremost in this matter. We thank them sincerely.

Mr. John J. Blair, superintendent of the city schools, was present and was accompanied by Rev. Andrew J. Howell. Both of these gentlemen spoke most interestingly and touched on some of the practical things of life that the colored people ought to know. Mr. Blair referred to the vast numbers of colored boys that are being arraigned week after week before the courts for one crime or another and expressed his profound regret for the same. He is confident that the remedy for such a state of affairs lies largely with the schools, those that encourage industry and self help. He also impressed upon all the necessity of thrift, discouraging the useless and unnecessary habit so prevalent among colored people of having expensive funerals; of the reckless paying of money to jitney insurance agents; the evil of purchasing on the installment plan, and of each one trying to acquire for himself a home.

Mr. Howell gave some practical suggestions on the laws of health and spoke at some length on birds.

Mention should also be made of the manner in which the children of the Williston Industrial school and the Williston primary schools, played their part. A splendid programme was rendered. To say that the speakers all confessed that they were touched by the singing and recitations of the children is expressing it but mildly.

At the close of the programme, a committee meeting was held with the teachers and adults with a view to making plans for the moonlight school. There were about 60 present and the interest manifested was very gratifying. There were at least 20 volunteer teachers, made up of four ministers, one physician, besides teachers of the Williston school and others, who are not now engaged in actual teaching.

At night another large meeting was held at St. Stephen's A. M. E. church annex. The principal speaker was Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, who told of the origin of the moonlight schools and explained the nature of the work. He thought that both from a humanitarian and a patriotic standpoint, this work should appeal to all good citizens. Mr. Blair was also present and made another good address.

Dr. Parris, of St. Mark's colored Episcopal church, spoke next and emphasized the necessity of a man learning to think for himself and showed that the moonlight schools are intended to do this. Two other teachers were added to the list of volunteers.

PROSPECTS FOR CORN SHOW MOST FAVORABLE

Canvass of Several Counties Shows Increased Interest.

Tents Arrive on Clyde Steamer Today—Space for Exhibits Being Alloted—Word to Local Exhibitors.

Encouraging reports for the success of the Corn and Agricultural Show were brought yesterday with the return of Mr. J. P. Herring, New Hanover's farm demonstration agent and his assistant, Mr. A. B. Sandlin, who have visited Brunswick, Columbus, Pender, Duplin and Sampson counties during the past week soliciting exhibits and creating general interest for the show.

The corn show representatives were very much pleased with the cordial response given them by the farmers in expressing their willingness to co-operate in sending agricultural exhibits. There is every evidence of a most creditable show as far as this feature is concerned and as emphasized from the beginning of the corn shows in Wilmington this is decidedly the most important. Mr. Herring and his assistant will cover the other counties included in the prize list, as far as possible, this week. The agricultural exhibits will be of great variety and excellent and will doubtless be a revelation to the Wilmington people and the large number of visitors that will be here during the show.

Pitch Tents This Week.

The three large tents shipped out from New York on the Clyde steamship Cherokee leaving Friday, November 5, are expected to arrive here today. They will be unloaded Monday and if plans are carried out will be erected some time during the first part of the week in order that the work of constructing booths and making general preparations may go forward without a hitch. There will be some 20,000 feet of space available for exhibits. However, reports from the Tent and Space committees which have been co-operating very effectively indicate that while this space will be ample, all will be occupied, or engaged, several days before the show. The main tent will cover almost the entire length of the block from Front to Water on Market street. This of course, will be connected with the two tents on the new Custom House site, making the whole show practically under one tent, with the entrance on Front street.

Some of the Exhibits.

Space for the agricultural exhibit has already been decided upon. This will occupy the prominent place to the right of the main entrance, and naturally will be given preference. It will doubtless occupy the long space the full length of this side of the tent ,or at least to the entrance of the tents on the Custom House site. Among the other exhibits decided upon for this tent will be the educational exhibit, manufacturers' exhibit, country exhibit, sorosis and Housewives' exhibits. There will be sufficient space in this tent to take care of many other exhibits, which up to the present have not been determined upon. The 50 by 90 tent will have the farm machinery and automobile exhibits and the 50 by 50 the live stock and poultry exhibits. The Space Committee has the matter well in hand and everything tends to make the arrangement for the different features most attractive.

Word to Local Exhibitors.

The Space committee will be very active in the next few days allotting space for different exhibits, particularly those from loyal concerns. The committee will meet each afternoon at 5 o'clock during the week to consider applications for space and all local exhibitors are requested to address a letter to the space committee, of the Corn and Agricultural Show, describing the character of their exhibit and space it will require. All space in the Corn and Agricultural Show to local manufacturers and business firms, under ordinary circumstances will be free. Of course, it is understood, as previously stated, that space for the agricultural exhibits from the different counties has already been allotted and has no bearing whatever on the local situation with reference to space. Those who are arranging to exhibit at the Corn Show, both manufacturers and business firms, should write the space committee immediately, in order that the proper reservations may be made.

Chairman Ames and the different committees are working actively on the many features and there is every indication of success for the show as a whole.

DEATH OF MRS. SHEPARD.

Beloved Christian Woman Passed Away Yesterday—Funeral This Afternoon.

Many friends in Wilmington and elsewhere will learn with deep regret of the death of Mrs. Henrietta Shepard, widow of the late Dr. J. C. Shepard, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock at her home, No. 904 Market street. She was 73 years old and was a native of this county, having been born and reared at Scott's Hill, but had lived in this city for many years. She had been in feeble health for the last two years and in August suffered an attack from which she never recovered. Her condition became serious on Wednesday of this week and she sank rapidly until the end.

She was a devoted member of Trinity Methodist church, this city, and the funeral will be conducted from this church this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. W. V. McRae, and Rev. J. D. Bundy, pastor of Grace Methodist church. The interment will be in the family plot in Oakdale cemetery.

Surviving Mrs. Shepard are two daughters and two sons, as follows: Mrs. R. J. Bryant, of Scott's Hill; Mrs. B. O. Stone, of Wilmington; Mr. J. C. Shepard, of this city, and Mr. A. Shepard, of Santiago, Cal. Surviving also are four brothers, Messrs. J. T. Foy, of Scott's Hill; H. S. Foy, of Winston-Salem, and J. W. Foy and F. M. Foy, also of Scott's Hill.

The deceased was greatly beloved on account of her sweet Christian character and kindly disposition. She believed earnestly in a life of service and found her chief pleasure in living for others. She found her greatest joy in attending the services of her church and as long as she was able made it a practice to take part in its work. The bereaved family will have the sincere sympathy of a host of friends.

TO SHOW WHAT DOLLAR CAN DO

Wilmington Rotary Club Plans Novel Scheme to be Operated in City During Corn Show Week.

As a feature of "Buy It in Wilmington Week," in connection with the industrial parade planned for the Corn and Agricultural Show in this city November 16th, 17th, 18th, and 19th, the Wilmington Rotary Club has introduced a novel plan by which the purchasing and paying power of a dollar is going to be emphasized in a most interesting manner.

The club has had printed a number of certificates to be put in circulation by members of the Rotary Club, properly filled out with name and number, these certificates bearing a striking resemblance to a stock certificate. On the inside of the certificate, printed in colors, are given "The Rules of the Game," or in other words, directions how to use the certificate. The plan is that during this fair week 25 Rotary dollars will be put in circulation by as many members of the club. The game will start Monday morning, November 15th, at 9 o'clock and will end Saturday evening, November 20th, at the Atlantic Trust & Banking Co., at 9 o'clock. The certificate is to be used in the ordinary methods of business for the payment of just debts incurred by citizens of Wilmington to a fellow citizen and must not be sent out of town during the time mentioned. Every individual, firm or corporation receiving the certificate and folder is asked to pass it in its entirety, in payment of his, her, their or its obligations and to sign or stamp their names on the back of the folder before presenting the same in payment of indebtedness. Should the spaces, which are provided on the back of the folder or certificate become exhausted before the expiration of the week, the person presenting the certificate and folder attached to Rotarian Milton Calder, of the Atlantic Trust & Banking Co., will be given a new folder and be paid 25 cents for the trouble of bringing the same in exchange.

The certificate and folder that has shown by the number of names on the folder to have been circulated or passed the greatest number oftimes and presented to Mr. Calder in exchange for another certificate before 9 P. M., Saturday of the week, will receive from the Rotarian putting the certificate into circulation the sum of $5.00, and from the Rotary Club an additional $5.00.

"So; Buy it in Wilmington, N. C." and pass the certificate and folder along is the parting injunction that promises to keep more dollars rolling along in legitimate commerce during that week than have rolled along down the channels of trade in some time.

The game is unique and cleverly devised as are most innovations and propositions by this live commercial agency in the Wilmington community.

CAPT. FREDERICK E. OWEN

Funeral in Wrentham, Mass., Last Friday—Distinguished Honors.

The following account of the funeral of the late Capt. Frederick E. Owen, so well and favorably known in Wilmington, is from The Evening Call, of Franklin, Mass:

"Officers and middies of the United States coast guard service were among the mourners of the funeral of the late Capt. Frederick E. Owen, chief of the engineering department of the coast guard service for the New England district, who passed away at his home at Wrentham last Friday. Services were conducted at 2 o'clock by Rev. Guy W. Miner, who was assisted by Marsden R. Foster, in the presence of relatives and friends, besides the officers and men in the coast guard service. There was a profusion of beautiful tributes, including a large standing anchor from the Coast Guards.

"Following the services, the remains were brought here and interment was in Union street cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Minor and Mr. Foster performed the committal service.

Honorary bearers were Capt. Ballinger, Capt. Cutchen, Lieut. Hay, Lieut. Molloy, Lieut. Farrell, all of the coast guard service, and Fred P. Chapman of this town. The bearers were three middies from the Androscoggin and three middies from the Gresham.

"Capt. Owen was taken ill early in the summer and had been on sick leave since July. He had seen service on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and also on the Great Lakes. He was on the cutter Gresham when that vessel was cut in two to enable her to pass through the canal locks from the lakes to the St. Lawrence rover, when she was ordered to service on the coast. Prior to going to Boston Capt. Owen was stationed at New Orleans. He was an officer of wide experience in the revenue cutter service and was within a few years of reaching the retiring age.

"He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Miss Julia G. Owen."

Open New Music House.

On account of a delay in securing the store, Messrs. Love & Woody, who will conduct an up-to-date and thoroughly modern piano store and music house, have been unable to open until this week, but they announce that tomorrow they will open at No. 217 North Front street. This is the building formerly occupied by the Wilmington Shoe Company.

HAD PELLAGRA; IS NOW CURED

Hillsboro, Ala.—J. W. Turner, of this place, says: "I ought to have written you two weeks ago, but failed to do so. I got well and then forgot to write you. I can get about like a 10-year-old boy; you ought to see me run around and tend to my farm. I can go all day just like I used to. I am so thankful to know there is such a good remedy to cure people of pellagra."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., box 2097, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—Adv't.

Friends in Wilmington have received announcement cards reading as follows:

Mr. Stephen F. Heyer
Miss Veneta Reynolds
Married
Wednesday, November the third
nineteen hundred and fifteen
Herkimer, New York
At Home
531 Lake street

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Wilson Reynolds, formerly of Wilmington, but now superintendent of the electric lighting plant in Herkimer, N. Y.

Rev. W. Marshall Craig, acting pastor of the First Baptist church, and his bride have returned from their honeymoon, which was spent in Western North Carolina, and are living at No. 115 North Third street. They were married recently at the home of the bride at Batesburg, S. C. They were greatly surprised to find upon their arrival that the bed room of their suite had been handsomely furnished with beautiful mahogany furniture, this being the gift of the members of the First Baptist church. They also received a large davenport, this being the gift of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Weathers and the household, where Mr. Craig has boarded for some time.

RELIEF WORK WILL BE RESUMED BY COLONIAL DAMES

It has been decided by the North Carolina Society of Colonial Dames of America to continue their relief work to help the sufferers in Europe, as a special memorial to their late president, Mrs. E. P. Bailey, who had this interest so much at heart, and who, through her intelligent zeal, accomplished such fine results in this field.

Following their plan, the society will meet every Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at their assembly room in the basement of No. 503 Market street. All those interested are cordially invited to aid in this work, either by helping the society work at their rooms, or by sending scraps of old linen.

WIGGINS-LODOR WEDDING TAKES PLACE THIS MONTH.

The following from The Lookout, a journal of Southern society, published in Chattanooga, Tenn., will be read with much interest by many friends: "The marriage of Miss Bessie Lodor, of Wilmington, N. C., to Mr. Octave Wiggins will take place in that city very quietly on November 18th. The bride is a first cousin of Miss Elizabeth Lodor, of Chattanooga, whom she has frequently visited, and a sister of Mr. James C. Lodor, who will attend the wedding. Miss Elizabeth Lodor was to have been maid of honor in an elaborately appointed wedding, but, owing to the recent death of the bride's father, Mr. James Lodor, formerly of Chattanooga, a very quiet ceremony will be observed."

MADAM HOWE-COTHRAN GIVES SONG RECITAL AT UNIVERSITY

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 6.—The song recital, given Friday night in Peabody Mall by Madam Howe-Cothran, niece of President Wilson and sister of Dr. George Howe, of the University faculty, was a distinct success in every particular. A large crowd attended the recital, and the singer won the admiration of all with her sweet voice and charming personality.

Madam Howe-Cothran has given many recitals abroad, and recently she has been heard enthusiastically by large audiences at the Bandbox Theatre and at the Hotel Plaza in New York, at President Wilson's summer home at Cornish, N. H., and at the White House in Washington on several occasions.

LINEN AUXILIARY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The Linen Auxiliary of the James Walker Memorial Hospital met Friday morning at 11 o'clock and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Sol Sternberger; secretary, Mrs. M. M. Caldwell; treasurer, Mrs. W. G. Hull.

The retiring president, Mrs. S. Solomon, made a most interesting report which follows:

"To the Officers and Members of the Linen Auxiliary of the James Walker Memorial Hospital:

"As my term of office expires with this meeting, I would like to say a few words which I hope may instill new energy into the society. We were not able during the past year to give the some amount of linens as we usually do. This was no doubt caused by lack of voluntary contributions. Heretofore, we have asked the different members for help but on account of the many demands for charity last year, we thought it best to try to carry on the work. With what surplus was in the treasury and the membership dues. There are still some outstanding dues despite the fact we have used every effort to collect them. Now, I am sorry to say our treasury is almost entirely depleted and so are the linen closets of the hospital.

"We have Mrs. Sandlin mending the linens and Miss McKay, the head nurse tells us her help is invaluable but her salary must be paid and we have undertaken to do this. Ladies, I have put the situation before you, will you not put forth every energy and devise some way in which we may continue this good good work for the hospital authorities depend almost entirely on our society for their linens and we cannot and must not fail in this worthy charity.

"I wish to thank all who have so kindly assisted me during my administration and I extend my best wishes for the welfare of the society."

THE FLORAL EXHIBIT

Will Be Confined to Chrysanthemum Display at Coming Show.

Since the exhibits for the corn show must all be under tents with the possibility of a cold change in the weather, it has been decided to make the floral display entirely a chrysanthemum show. The prizes to be awarded will be as follows:

For Florists—First prize, for the general display, $10. Second prize, for the finest six or more of any one color of cut chrysanthemums, $5.00

For Amateurs—First prize, for the best general display, $5. Second prize, for the first six or more of any one color of cut chrysanthemums, $5.00.

North Carolina State Board of Health Speaks Highly of Health Work.

In an article furnished the press of the State, the North Carolina State Board of Health calls attention to the fact that Wilmington now employs two whole time district nurses and suggests the following explanation:

"If other towns wonder why Wilmington affords two district nurses with so much ease when they are not yet affording one, a few facts and figures relative to the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals, from Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, of Wilmington, will be more or less explanatory. According to Mrs. Martin, a Red Cross Society was organized there in 1908 with only eight members. That year they purchased Red Cross seals and sold seals to the value of $415.70. Early the next year a graduate nurse was secured, 'whose work and worth to the community,' says Mrs. Martin, 'became invaluable.' In 1909, $473.68 was realized from selling seals. Each year brought an increase, raising as high as $1,006.14 in 1913. Last year, owing to the general financial depression, they fell back to $927.43.

"What Wilmington is doing with Red Cross Seals is not only of great import in a material way to that city but is an inspiration to other towns needing the services of a district or community nurse."

DEED FOR HANDSOME HOME.

Transfer of Valuable Property to Dr. Murphy by Mrs. Roberta Russell.

A deed was filed in the office of the Register of Deeds yesterday transferring from Mrs. Roberta L. Russell to Dr. J. Gerald Murphy her handsome home on Third street, between Dock and Orange. The sale was arranged several weeks ago and it is understood that the consideration was in the neighborhood of $15,000.

A deed was also filed for record yesterday by which Fannie R. Williams transfers to M. W. Divine and T. C. White for $1 and other considerations, a tract of land in Masonboro township containing 31 1-2 acres.

WANT BOOKS FOR SCHOOLS.

Committee in Charge of Moonlight Schools Requests Donations.

The committee in charge of the moonlight schools in New Hanover county find a great demand for books suitable for elementary classes. Books of one or two syllables will be especially appreciated and will be distributed among the students of the moonlight schools. Persons interested and desiring to help the movement and having such books to discard, may send them to Mr. F. A. Lord's real estate office, No. 120 Princess street.

Chicken House Raided.

Mr. B. B. Cameron, who lives at Sixth and Wright streets, had his chicken house raided yesterday morning about 5:30 o'clock. When Mrs. Cameron heard chickens cackling in the back yard she woke up her husband and he ran out just in time to see the miscreant leap over the fence into the street.

Beautiful Chrysanthemums.

Miss Lucy B. Moore, the florist, has a beautiful collection of white, yellow and bronze chrysanthemums which she invites the public to inspect.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—The C. D. Kenny Company's store in this city is distributing as souvenirs to customers handsomely engraved likenesses of Mrs. Norman Galt, the President's fiancee. The pictures have been received with much favor by patrons of th store.

—The first arrest by the police since Wednesday afternoon fell to the lot of Officers Munn and Haskett last night about 11 o'clock. A colored woman, highly incensed at another and using vile and profane language at Twelfth and Market streets, was locked up for disorderly conduct and on a further charge of being a common nuisance.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Prof. B. W. Ruark, of Wallace, is spending the week end in the city, a guest at the home of his brother, Robert Ruark, Esq., of Carolina Heights.

—Mr. E. B. Hatch, now with the Southern Express Company in Greensboro but formerly with the Hyman Supply Co., in Wilmington, is spending a few days in the city visiting friends and relatives. He has been much impressed with the many signs of progress on every hand.

THE USE OF CHRISTMAS CARDS

Never in the history of the development of social customs have Christmas Cards been so much used as they are today.

The custom is almost universal and is extending each year; a fact that is natural, when it is remembered that this is the least expensive and most delicate means of conveying our share in the sum total of Christmas happiness.

While ready made cards for this occasion are offered for sale at many places; these are not so much in demand now as those which are specially engraved. Cards for "Christmas Greeting" should express one's individual taste in as great a degree as a cordial personal greeting, and this can only be accomplished through the medium of a card engraved in accordance with your own taste in arrangement and artistic effect.

The most satisfactory results can be obtained by consulting the J. P. Stevens Engraving Co., 47 Whitehall St., Atlanta, who will send samples of the very latest style—send today so that the work can be made up for you in ample time.

GOVERNMENT DEPOSITORY IS SWAMPED BY FOREIGN GOLD

Nearly $100,000,000 Poured Into New York Assay Office in Four Months—Gotham Prepares to Repel Annual Invasion of Tramps—Wall Street's Army of Messenger Boys Handles $150,000,000.

New York, Nov. 6.—The flood of gold that is pouring into New York to pay the war bills of the Allies has created a tack in the United States assay office such as that institution has never faced before. The piles of boxes containing the coin of Europe and the heaps of yellow bars in the vaults rise higher with each new shipment and threatens to overflow the capacity of the big new building which forms the official government clearing house for the precious metal.

The average amount of gold which goes through the assay office in ordinary times is $100,000,000 a year. From July 1 to October 3 receipts amounted to $44,351,600 and during a period of ten days recently $37,292,000 in foreign coin and $494,500 in bullion was deposited, making a total of $82,138,000 received and melted within a little over four months, or only about $18,000,000 less than ordinarily would be received in a year. The gold comes chiefly in bullion, English sovereigns, French Napoleons and Japanese yen. Of the gold received from July 1 to October 3, $17,121,300 was in bullion $11,623,800 in sovereigns, $4,638,800 in yen and $2,139,700 in Napoleons. The work that is required to turn this into bars for coinage into United States currency can be judged by the fact that it will take a week to handle a consignment received within the past few days amounting to $24,333,000. In the meantime the other deposits, of which there are from $500,000 to $1,000,000 a day outside of the big foreign shipments, must be taken care of. This is because a depositor gets a check for only 90 per cent. of the indicated value of his gold when received, and must wait until the gold is melted, assayed and valued down to the last ten thousandth of a cent before he can get a check for the balance due. Despite the great handican under which the assay office has been laboring, it has managed to get this final check out usually within four days after the receipt of the gold.

The army of tramps which makes its annual pilgrimage to New York to spend the winter months is to be met with a warm reception this year, according to plans outlined by the police of the city in co-operation with the charities department. It is estimated that the incoming host, the advance guard of which has already made its appearance, will number at least 100,000 men. The police have received instructions to keep all beggars off the streets, and when they apply at the municipal lodging house for assistance, they will be distributed where they belong. Some will be sent to institutions or get a chance to work, and those who are non-residents will be shipped back to other states. It is this class, the unemployable, which constitutes the real problem this winter in New York as there is prospect of plenty of employment for those who are willing to work. A careful study of over 1,500 men who applied during the first quarter of 1915 at the lodging house for assistance revealed the fact that only six were working, 102 had been idle more than a year and 147 had been in the city for less than six months. The great majority of homeless men who apply at the municipal lodging house are unemployable, while a large percentage of the remainder, are too inefficient to hold a job. As a result of its investigation, the city officials have divided the unemployable into six distinct groups, the physically handicapped, the mentally handicapped, the inebriates, the habitually idle, the untrained and the aged.

Millions of dollars in negotiable securities and certified checks are carried daily through the streets of the city by a small army of boys employed by stock brokers and messenger offices in the financial district of New York. They are scarcely noticed in the crush of pedestrians, but they carry paper worth in the aggregate of $150,000,000 a day. Since the rush of speculation hit Wall Street, the commission houses have been hiring new boys every day. There are about 500 of these houses in the money district, and they employ an average of five boys each, who carry stocks to the banks to cover loans and to transfer offices, and checks to be certified at banks. They are picked without much discrimination by the brokerage houses and messenger offices, but so far there has not been a single theft of any of the valuable papers they carry. This is not considered remarkable because of the system by which a check is kept upon all securities sent to the banks. If one of the boys should get into the hands of a crook who appropriated the securities and checks, the thief would find it extremely difficult to dispose of them. A few hours after they were missed, which would be shortly after the time they should reach their destination, every cashier in the country would have before him the numbers of the stocks and checks, on which transfer and payment had been stopped. In addition Wall Street is guarded by a small army of policemen and special officers employed by the bankers.

One of the smallest boats that has ever attempted a trip around the world left New York during the past week. The "Safety First," as it is named, in appearance resembles an ordinary motor boat, but it is a non-sinkable lifeboat, capable of cruising a distance of 5,500 miles on one load of fuel. In an emergency it can carry one hundred passengers, although on the present trip in addition to the captain, who is accompanied by his wife, the crew will consist of but two men. The boat was

A Thousand Delegates and Visitors Representing Church Membership of 255,000 Expected to Attend 1915 Session, Which Convenes December 7—Some Important Elections to be Made.

(By T. W. CHAMBLISS.)

These are thoughtful days with over 255,000 members of Baptist churches in North Carolina. Never before has this great and growing denomination approached a meeting of the State convention with exactly the same degree of anxiety. This next month will mark the 85th annual session of the Baptist State Convention—the closing of a year of marked progress, featured with many obstacles and tremendous responsibilities well met.

When the Baptist host gathers in Charlotte—the city of electrical energy—a great and growing Baptist city—serious matters will meet the assembled messengers of the 2,100 Baptist churches. Important changes are to be made; important positions of leadership are to be filled. Never before in the history of the denomination have so many changes become a matter of expectancy as will face the convention when it shall gather in the meeting house of the First Baptist church of Charlotte, Tuesday night, December 7.

Will be Memorable Session.

For more than one reason this session will be memorable. Momentous matters are to be considered. The place held for 15 years by Rev. Livingston Johnson, D. D., corresponding secretary of missions, calls for serious consideration. Dr. Johnson has resigned, as every Baptist already knows, the resignation to take effect with the closing of the fiscal year, December 1. The heavy load of labor—it is a man's task—requires a man of spirituality, of tact, of intellectual ability, of executive ability, of patience and forbearance. Since the resignation of Dr. Johnson some weeks ago, the selection of his successor has been the thought of thousands of interested men and women. There have been no steps taken in the matter—it will be the work of the convention.

Then some other officers are to be elected. It is generally understood and accepted that the convention will have to elect a presiding officer in the opening session. Rev. C. H. Durham, D. D., pastor of the Brown Memorial church, Winston-Salem, has presided for four sessions. Last year when the convention met at Raleigh other nominations were made, but Dr. Durham was elected by a very happy majority. It is understood, however, that he will not permit his name to be considered this year. In the history of the Convention but three men have served the convention as president more than four consecutive years—these men were Alfred Dockery, James McDaniel and R. H. Marsh.

Coming along the line, the convention will have to elect another secretary—Dr. Charles E. Brewer, who has served as one of the secretaries for seven years, is now the president of Meredith College, this being his first year in that position, and naturally he will not be able to serve as secretary. Rev. W. M. Gilmore, elected last year as one of the secretaries, after the death of the lamented N. B. Broughton, will be re-elected, as will be Walters Durham, the efficient treasurer. Mr. Durham has handled the funds of the convention 15 years. There are other momentous matters to be considered at Charlotte, but the first session will be featured with the election of a president, a secretary and a corresponding secretary of missions.

Fifth Time in Charlotte.

This is to be the fifth time that Charlotte has entertained the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. The first time was in 1859 and James McDaniel presided over the convention; J. B. Solomon was at the secretary's table; Rev. A. J. Emerson was re-elected corresponding secretary of missions at that session, having served the previous year. The introductory sermon was delivered by Rev. J. S. Walthall.

Again the convention met in Charlotte in 1871. This time W. T. Brooks was in the chair, and N. B. Cobb and N. B. Broughton were secretaries. This session marked the election of N. B. Broughton as one of the secretaries for the first time. Rev. Dr. J. D. Hufham was chosen as corresponding secretary of missions, his second year, and he served four years. The introductory sermon was delivered by Rev. W. M. Wingate. The treasurer of the convention was John G. Williams.

The third time that Charlotte was host was the year 1894. Rev. R. H. Marsh was president; N. B. Broughton and N. B. Cobb were secretaries; Columbus Durham was corresponding secretary of missions, and J. D. Boushall was treasurer. The annual sermon was delivered by Rev. T. J. Taylor.

Nine years later, in 1903, the Convention again gathered in Charlotte. Dr. R. H. Marsh was again chosen as president, N. B. Broughton and H. C. Moore were secretaries; Walters Durham was treasurer and Rev. Livingston Johnson was corresponding secretary of State missions. Rev. C. W. Duke delivered the annual sermon.

This year, 1915, the Convention will meet in the Queen City, and Walters Durham will be re-elected treasurer, the only officer of the convention of 14 years ago to hold official position in the coming session. This year the annual sermon will be delivered by Rev. T. W. O'Kelley, pastor of the First Baptist church, Raleigh, or his alternate, Rev. J. Clyde Turner, of the First Baptist church of Greensboro. Busy committees are planning for the entertainment of the thousand expected delegates and announcement has been made that the people of Charlotte will provide for lodging, breakfast and supper, the delegates securing their mid-day lunch down town, close to the meeting house.

Those who know Charlotte know of the gracious hospitality which will be happily shown to all comers. Recognized as one of the great religious centers of the State, and said to be the greatest church-going people of any city of the State, the Baptist host from the mountains to the sea anticipate days of unsurpassed pleasure.

The First Baptist church, together with the other churches of Charlotte, will be hosts to the Convention—churches composed of loyal and earnest Baptist people, ever keenly alive to the interest and work of the denomination at home and abroad.

Anxiety Just Now.

In Baptist homes, whether it be in the humble cabin of the hills or the more elaborate mansion of the Piedmont section—in thousands of Baptist homes there anxious men and women watch—the reports of the work of the denomination. Tremendous advances have been made. Rev. Livington Johnson was elected corresponding secretary of missions with the beginning of the first year of the present century—1901. The report for that year shows total offerings for State missions amounted to $20,137.90. This year, unless serious failure shall come during the next two weeks, the total offerings will pass $55,000 for the same department of the work. If the Convention year shall close with the offerings of the year for State missions up to the goal set a year ago, and this is very likely, then the Baptists of North Carolina shall have contributed to the work of State missions during the 15 years' service of Dr. Johnson as their secretary the sum of $544,013.75. Each year has seen a substantial forward movement, the work accomplished can not be measured in money. Churches have been organized, supported, strengthened, buildings erected and a great host of people saved through the efforts of the missionaries of the State Mission Board. This is, however, only one feature of the work. The denomination has liberally aided the work of both home and foreign missions, education, the orphanage work, and other departments of denominational activity. It is expected that the total contributions of the Baptists of the State this year will go beyond $300,000, a substantial increase over last year. While official figures cannot be obtained at this time, it is a settled fact that the total baptisms will go far beyond the reports of last year.

Progressive Movements.

One of the most attractive features of progressive work is in the Sunday school department. It is said that possibly only 75 Baptist churches in this State at this time where Sunday schools could be organized, have none. Over 50 churches do not have public worship and a few churches have Sunday schools and do not report them. The denomination reported last year 2,052 organized Sunday schools, a number almost as great as the total number of churches, but there were reported 111 branch or mission schools. Last year the reports showed 75 new Sunday schools and already 60 new schools have been reported this year with other sections yet to report. During the last five years the net gain in churches has been 194, while the net gain in organized Sunday schools to date is 431. In North Carolina there are 98 per cent as many Sunday schools as churches, while in the territory of the Southern Baptist convention the per cent is only 71.

Baptist Sunday schools are contributing largely to missionary activity. Last year the schools reported $40,000 in total offerings over and above the running expenses of the organizations.

Work of the Women.

Baptist women are moving forward rapidly. The sad passing of their leader, Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, who for many years was president of the Woman's Missionary Union of this State as well as president of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention, brought a realization of severe loss, but the organization is going forward along the lines projected by the wonderfully competent woman, whose name will always stand in the forefront of Southern Baptist history. The woman's missionary societies of this State will report at Charlotte total offerings of over $40,000 to Convention missionary objects. The women have more than 1,000 local organizations connected with the Baptist churches of the State and are pushing the work of organization with the aim of a society in every church.

In the Early Days.

The Baptist State Convention dates its organization to the year 1830, when in March the first session was held. After a spirited discussion a resolution of very few words, but words of mighty import, brought into being the North Carolina Baptist State Convention, an organization which was to have large usefulness in the work of evangelization and denominational development. This first session was held in Greenville and Patrick W. Dowd was chosen as the first president. R. S. Blount was elected secretary, and John Armstrong corresponding secretary of missions. Rev. Samuel Walt delivered the first introductory sermon. Henry Austin was the first treasurer. Sixty-eight years passed before the Convention met again with the Greenville Baptists. That second meeting was in 1898 and Rev. Dr. R. H. Marsh was the president.

The man of the vision, whose faith and sticktoitiveness had much to do with the organization of the Convention, Martin Ross, has gone long years ago to his place, but the work has continued. Martin Ross had urged the convention idea for years but before the final success was achieved he was called home, his name is on the roll of great Baptist leaders.

During the 85 years of convention history the Baptist denomination has made tremendous progress. In the State there are 64 district associations, each holding an annual session and keeping in direct touch with the local church. Within the bounds of the Commonwealth there are over 2,100 organized churches with upwards of 255,000 members. There are over 200,000 enrolled scholars in the 2,100 Baptist Sunday schools. Of this enrollment, over 50 per cent is unsaved—a mighty force to be added to the churches after being evangelized. Last year over 13,000 baptisms were reported and it is likely that the reports this year will show above 16,000. Last year the total contributions over and above local church expenses amounted to $189,756.71. This year the offerings will be larger, more like $200,000.

Facing Some Problems.

When the Convention meets in Charlotte there will come up for discussion several important matters touching the future work of the organization. Last December when the Convention met in Raleigh a committee of 15 was appointed to consider proposed changes in method of work. This committee consists of W. C. Barrett, M. L. Kesler, L. Johnson, C. E. Brewer, L. R. Pruette, J. C. Turner, I. N. Loftin, C. L. Haywood, C. W. Scarborough, W. A. Cooper, G. T. Watkins, J. A. Campbell, I. M. Mercer, G. N. Cowan and J. M. Stoner. This committee will advise on the advisability of a plan of organization which provides for three general boards: The Board of Missions and Sunday Schools, to be located at Raleigh; the Board of Education, to be located at Durham, and the Board of Social Service, to be located at Greensboro. Further the plan provides that each board shall have 15 members, not more than three of whom shall be from any one district association. Another provision is to the effect that no one individual shall be a member of more than one of the three boards. The committee will also advise in the matter of the proposed change which provides for the election of all officers without the nomination by a committee.

Wake Forest Church Building.

One of the features of the coming Convention will be the report of the special committee appointed to raise $18,000 to pay off the indebtedness on the meeting house erected at Wake Forest College. The Convention, in session at Goldsboro, in 1913, obligated the denomination in the matter of aiding the Wake Forest church in the erection of a suitable building on the college campus. The building was completed last December and the Convention went from Raleigh to Wake Forest one day and held a session in the auditorium. The committee was appointed to raise the funds to pay off the part of the debt for which the Convention was liable. Rev. C. E. Maddry, of Raleigh, is chairman of the committee and his report is awaited with considerable interest.

CHARLOTTE AND THE BAPTISTS.

Miscarriage of the Harvard Plan and How It Came About.

(Livingston Johnson, Corresponding Secretary, Biblical Recorder.)

In explanation of the change in plan of entertainment suggested by Dr. Vines' article in last week's Recorder, it becomes necessary for me to make a statement and this I do most cheerfully.

Just a year ago I was in the city of Charlotte. No hint had come from any quarter that an invitation would be extended for the entertainment of the Convention at its next session. Things began to look serious, just as they do this year. I suggested to the Charlotte brethren that they invite the convention. They said they would like to do so, but the servant problem had become so acute that they were afraid they might have trouble in entertaining it. I asked if they could not entertain it on the Harvard plan, viz: giving the delegates lodging and breakfast, letting them secure lunch and supper downtown. They said they could do that and would be very glod to entertain it on that plan, but they felt a delicacy in inviting the Convention on the plan suggested. I told them if they would extend the invitation without making any conditions, I would see the committee on time and place and tell them the circumstances on which the invitation was extended and tell them that they make recommendation that the Convention accept the invitation on the Harvard plan. This I did and the committee embodied this recommendation in their report. A motion was made that the recommendation be stricken out and this motion prevailed. I had intended to bring up the matter later and explain that the Convention would have been without a home, had not Charlotte invited it, and that it was extended without any stipulation on the expectation that the Convention would go to Charlotte on the Harvard plan. During the rush of the closing hours of the Convention, I neglected to call this matter up and I here and now assume full responsibility for the awkward situation which was brought about. I am very sure the brethren will be glad to comply with this request from the Charlotte brethren and take lunch downtown. I wish very much that we would go a step further and agree to take both lunch and supper downtown, thus relieving the housekeepers of the extra burden of one more meal. It would cost each delegate from $2 to $4 extra and would be an immense relief to the hostesses of the Convention. Charlotte cannot be charged with lack of hospitality. The cities which have entertained the Convention most frequently are Raleigh, 14 times; Goldsboro and Wilmington, five times, while this will be the fifth time the Convention will have met in Charlotte. It will be seen by this that Charlotte has not been wanting in hospitality, but has given royal entertainment to the Convention every time it has met here.

It was a great mistake that we did not get on to the Harvard plan last year. It would have not only relieved the present situation, but it would have insured the meeting place for next year and the Convention would have had more time to give the objects for which it meets.

originally known as the "S. O. S.," but its name was changed at the direction of government officials because the lifeboat carries a wireless outfit, and the signature of S. O. S. to messages might be taken for the sea call for help. According to the itinery decided upon before leaving New York, the boat will proceed through the Great Lakes, by way of the Hudson river and the Erie Canal. It will then enter the Mississippi, via the Chicago drainage channel, going down to New Orleans. It is then planned to go from there to San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal, thence to the Hawaiian and South Sea Islands, returning to Hawaii. It will leave the last named islands for Japan, Australia, Madagascar, and by way of the Suez Canal or the Cape of Good Hope to England. From England it is intended to cross the Atlantic returning to New York. The entire trip, it is believed, will take approximately thirty-six months.

The latest innovation to be adopted by the school authorities of the city, and one that has caused considerable indignation among the parents of the school children, is the photographing of every pupil in the elementary and high schools for the purpose of identification. These photographs will be placed on file with the board of education, and, for the present, each child on part time attendance, will be given a duplicate card containing the bearer's photograph, one inch square, in the upper right hand corner. It is hoped by this method to reduce to a minimum the practice of truancy in the schools of the city. When the collection of children's photographs is complete for the present school year, it will contain consderably over 700,000 photographs, each one on a separate identification card. In point of size it will have an advantage over all the regular police rogues's galleries in the world. Within the next four years it is estimated that the gallery will contain the photographs and identification cards of over 1,000,000 children.

S. S. S. Greatest Blood Remedy Gives Results When Others Fail

Nature's Remedy For Blood Troubles.

The purifying and curative properties of Nature's great remedy have made "S. S. S. for the Blood" a household saying. Thousands today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood purifier. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, which possess cleansing and healing ingredients. You cannot be well when your blood is impure; you lack strength and energy natural with health; your complexion becomes pale and sallow; your vitality is weakened. When waste or refuse matter, which Nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system, it is absorbed into the blood and boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin appear.

S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character. All skin diseases and eruptions pass away, and the smooth clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, all are deep-seated blood disorders, and for their treatment nothing equals S. S. S. Get S. S. S. at any drug store. If yours is a peculiar case write S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Often it is desired to keep an estate under the supervision of a friend or member of the family, and yet avoid the dangers of individual trusteeship, such as illness, death, or other circumstances that may impair the estate.

This may easily be accomplished by naming the Atlantic Trust and Banking Company as co-executor and co-trustee.

Such a precaution is particularly advisable when a wife or other woman relative is to be executrix and trustee, because the Company can relieve her entirely of the heavy responsibilities and arduous details, as it has an unexcelled organization and wide experience in handling personal trusts.

If you appoint this Company as executor and trustee, the cost will be no greater than if you appoint an individual.

THEATRICAL

Now for the Topsy Turvy Girls. Wilmington all this week will have a chance of glimpsing this well known bunch of song birds and clever dancers, as the Victoria Theatre has booked the attraction for all this week, and considers itself lucky in being able to land it, too. Theatre-goers will appreciate this when they behold the attraction at this popular playhouse this week. Who has not heard of the Topsy Turvy Girls and who, if they had a chance, has not taken advantage of that rare opportunity to see them, or if the chance was lacking, to wish that such a chance would pop up? Well, so far as Wilmington amusement lovers are concerned, the chance is with them, because the popular attraction will open a week's engagement at matinee tomorrow afternoon, following it up with two rousing performances tomorrow night.

The Topsy Turvy Girls this season have selected a fine repertoire of new musical comedies and Wilmington folks will see them presented with snap and charm that will prove a delightful, a refreshing treat. Each music show is new and filled with special features, besides being presented with special effects. The company pays strict attention, too, to the costuming of each show and the chorus dresses in style that is a perfect dream.

One of the big features of the attraction is noted Babe Kelly, the clever soubrette who holds the championship for buck and wing dancing. Miss Kelly will be seen at every performance and her delightful work will be one of the season's biggest hits. But Miss Kelly, while the star dancer, is only one of the many clever ones with the Topsy Turvy Girls, while the comedians are extra fine.

There will be no advance in prices this week, the same tiny scale, that so delights the people and proves a strong magnet, prevailing. Shows change Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Big Week at the Royal.

For the coming week the Royal has announced absolutely the biggest week of features yet since the opening of that beautiful photoplay theatre six weeks ago.

Tomorrow's big bill is a fitting week-opener, presenting that great romantic star of two continents, Lou Tellegen, in a magnificent picturization of the play by the same name, "The Explorer." Supporting Mr. Tllegen in this masterdrama is Dorothy Davenport, Horace Carpenter, James Neill and Tom Forman.

"The Explorer" is the happy combination of a great star, a great photoplay and a great production. It is a tense drama of the African jungle and a love story which made this play the favorite of England and America.

In presenting the Fox feature, "Dr. Rameau," Tuesday, there is presented a photoplay that, for sheer power, thrill and punch, outdoes anything seen during the year in the feature line, with the greatest cast ever assembled, including Dorothy Bernard, George Allison, Stuart Holmes and Claire Whitney.

Wednesday the biggest Metro of them all is presented—that beautiful and bewitching personality of the screen, Mary Miles Minter, starring in a beautiful heart-interest drama from the song, "Always in the Way," a play full of heart-throbs.

Thursday—Paramount Day (changed from Friday), presenting the international favorite, Elsie Janis, in "'Twas Ever Thus," a triple love story from the prehistoric down, with three heroes. The cast includes Hobart Bosworth, Owen Moore, Myrtle Stedman and Helen Woolcott.

Friday—Vivian Martin in "The Little Dutch Girl," an entrancing five-act World Feature, and Saturday, to cap the climax, that great patriotic five-act feature, "Guarding Old Glory."

Vitagraph Feature; Grand Tomorrow

The Grand starts the week with another big boom tomorrow. A two-reel Vitagraph feature, "Barriers of Prejulice," heads the program. Once again the tiny hands of a baby unite its parents, after misunderstanding and deceit have separated them. The theme of this two-reel story is absolutely new; an dis very human. Son of a wealthy widow marries poor fisher girl, but old prejudice of riches and station proves almost insurmountable barrier to happiness. On learning the whole story from the straightforward fisherwoman's lips, Gerald begins to understand matters better, his feelings undergo a change, and he turns against his mother in favor of Meg. He leaves Mrs. Howe, a broken woman, and is soon in his wife's arms, but in the end the baby reunites them all in peace and forgiveness. The acting of the cast is uniformly efficient, the leading parts being taken by Annie Schaeffer, Carlton Weatherby, Marguerite Reid and Mrs. Jay Hunt.

The Kalem Company will present one of their rousing Ham comedies, "Lotta Coin's Ghost," featuring Bud Duncan, the funniest little man on the screen. This picture is without a doubt the limit. You just can't help laughing at his original antics.

And still another, a delightful, good old-fashioned bit of comedy, drama is to be had in the Edison, "The Butler," also one of the features on Monday. A gay, likeable young rake (Richard Tucker), is up to his ears in debt and in love and must have some money to win the girl before his rival, and how the unnoticed butler (William Wadsworth), turns near tragedy is a pleasant surprise.

Tuesday's feature is a three-reel Vitagraph Broadway Star feature, "Youth," featuring Antonio Moreno, one of the most popular screen actors, and Frankie Mann. Wednesday, by request, the management has booked Charlie Chaplin, the greatest of all comedians, for a return engagement in his famous two-act comedy, "Shanghaied."

The Smart Set

Once more it is our pleasure to chronicle the advent of that peer of all colored aggregations of modern funmakers, singers and dancers, the Smart Set Company. This noted aggregation presenting the latest and best of all musical comedies, "George Washington Bullion Abroad," will be the next attraction at the Academy on next Wednesday. At the head of this production, of course, will be Salem Tutt Whitney, who will make his debut as a full fledged author with this engagement. Whitney, whose talents as a star of wide magnitude need little introduction to local theatre-goers, wrote the piece. Apparently the combination has proven an unusual triumph, if flattering press accounts are any criterian. The vehicle was written and concocted for the purpose of creating mirth and let us add that it has hit the mark of public approval. If a large advance sale proves anything, the offering is sure to make a hit and be one of the gayeties of the season. As Whitney says himself, "I have the best part of my career even if I did write it myself, and my friends may depend upon it that I will do my best to amuse them as I have in the past." Surely this is a most encouraging introduction, coming as it does from a star of suck acknowledged reputation and efficiency.

The entire balcony and the left half of the lower floor will be reserved for colored people. The prices will be from 25 cents to $1. Tickets will go on sale tomorrow morning at Plummer's.

Monday at the Bijou.

Tomorrow the Bijou begins a new era, introducing in addition to the incomparable Universal program, a carefully chosen selection of features from the programme of the General Film Company, presenting the biggest releases of Kalem, Biograph, Lubin, Essanay, Edison, Selig and Vitagraph companies.

Tomorrow's big bill is headed by the greatest two-reel Billie Ritchie-L-Ko comedy ever filmed, "Room and Board, A Dollar and a Half," featuring Billie himself, with the balance of that great L-Ko bunch of fun-makers. This picture is one continuous scream, and starts with Billie and ends with Billie. He's right in the thick of the doings for two full reels, and pulls off some of his very greatest stunts ever yet seen.

For the first feature from the G. F. Programme, there will be presented Monday, a big three-act Edison feature. "The Slavey Student," starring that beautiful personality, Viola Dana, in the leading role, supported by a great cast of stars. "The Slavey Student" is a drama with human interest and heart-touching qualities such as are seldom seen, and will appeal to everyone who likes a drama with that soft, throbbing, human touch. And in Miss Dana there is featured one of flimdom's most beautiful and accomplished stars.

WHY ATHLETES DIE YOUNG

Government Report Says They Leave Strenuous Life to Abruptly.

"Champion athletes die young" is the conclusion of Federal inspectors appointed to investigate the length of the lives of athletes. In making their investigations the government officials relied upon the opinions of men who knew school and university athletics thoroughly.

Dr. W. G. Anderson, director of the Yale gymnasium, pointed out that until 1905 the Yale men who had achieved distinction in athletics lived longer than those who neglected sports. Since 1905 there has been an increase in the death rate of Yale athletes, and especially among oarsmen. Dr. Jas. A. Kase, physical director at Indiana University, says the reason college athletes sometimes have heart trouble is that they change their habits of living after graduation. He says that a man who participates in strenuous sports for six or seven years, accustoming his heart to extraordinary strains, should continue to take exercise after graduation, so that the full capacity of the heart will be used. The same opinion is held by Dr. Thos. D. Wood, who believes that moderate exercise tends to increase the length of the athlete's life.

Dr. C. V. P. Young, director in Cornell's gymnasium, says that basketball and the quarter and half mile track events put athletes to strains which "have little or nothing to commend them as contributing to the physical welfare of the contestant." Dr. C. L. Brewer, director of athletics at the University of Missouri, believes that athletes do not die younger than other men.

The authorities agree that a man of 30, who has not played strenuous games in his youth, should not exert himself in competition, but the former athlete may continue to play in nearly all games excepting those requiring sudden strains, even these sports will do him no harm. The man of 45 ought to play tennis moderately, golf, bowling and handball. Swimming, moderate rowing, horseback riding, tramping and fishing are beneficial, and not too strenuous for men of that age.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NEGRO DRUGGISTS FINED $1,000.

But Relieved of Payment of $900 Wholesale Liquor Bill.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—A Wake county jury this evening relieved Love Bros., negro druggists, from obligation to pay $915 to Pfeifer & Company, of Cincinnati, liquor dealers, the plea for non-payment that the jury sustained by its verdict being that the liquors were shipped with the knowledge that they would be sold in violation of the prohibition law of the State. The plaintiffs appealed. The Loves were fined $1,000 for selling without prescription.

Fuchs Opens Branch Store in Lumberton—Lad Run Over by Automobile —Sheriff Lewis Smiling— Personal Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 6. — This section has enjoyed another week of ideal weather, the kind that makes everybody feel better. There was some frost one or two mornings, but not what could be termed heavy, killing frost. The opinion has been expressed by a good many that if the present fine weather conditions prevail for another week the farmers will be practically through gathering their crops.

The "Lumberton Bargain House" will be open for business next week, but just what day has not been announced. This new business will be a branch house of J. W. H. Fuchs, of Wilmington, and Mr. M. J. Merritt will be manager. A large shipment of goods has arrived and will be placed as rapidly as possible. Mr. Fred Fuchs arrived this morning to assist Mr. Merritt in arranging goods for the opening. Your correspondent has known the Messrs. Fuchs since they first came to Wilmington 20 or 25 years ago, both boys then, and has never met two more genuine good fellows than they are; clever, obliging, making friends of all with whom they become acquainted. Mr. Merritt, the manager, married a Robeson county lady and of course is at home in Lumberton.

Lad Hurt by Automobile.

Said to have been "snagging" an automobile as it was backing to make a turn near the graded school building yesterday morning, David Shooter, a small boy, fell off and one of the rear wheels passed over his body before the car could be stepped. Besides the colored man who was driving it, there were two gentlemen in the car, all unconscious of the boy's presence until they heard him cry out. While he is said to have been badly bruised, he is not considered seriously hurt. No blame seems to be attached to any one but the unfortunate lad himself.

The Charlotte fair will be held next week, but Lumberton has no rates for it. A week later the Wilmington fair is to be held, but Lumberton gets no reduced rate. The Raleigh and Fayetteville fairs both had reduced rates from here and some people can't understand why they can't visit Charlote and Wilmington on reduced rates on similar occasions.

(The Seaboard is advertising in The Star a special low rate from Wilmington to Charlotte on account of the fair, and it is understood that the usual rule applies, to wit: That corresponding low rates are given from intermediate points. Several weeks ago the Wilmington fair management announced that the Seaboard had agreed to give special low rates from points along its line as far west as Maxton for the Wilmington fair, November 16 to 19. The misunderstanding must be due to want of local advertising along the line.—News Editor).

Mr. S. S. Stephens has made two round trips to Charlotte this week, going up on the train and returning by automobile, bringing a new car on each trip, making the round trip in the day.

Court This Week

A one week term of Superior court will convene here Monday with Judge Harry W. Whedbee, of Greenville, presiding. This will be a criminal term.

The Yadkin Power Company has a force of men engaged in clearing the way for their line from the substation to the town power plant, preparatory to furnishing electric current. The change in power cannot be made within several months, as much work will be required to complete the change.

Quite a number of people from this section attended the sessions of the Robeson Baptist Association held at Lumber Bridge this week. An occasion of much pleasure was reported.

The Manhattan Opera Company, which was booked for the Lumberton opera house next Monday night, seems to have "gone busted" in Wilmington Thursday and will not be here. No agent having been here to arrange for the coming of the show, it was not advertised.

Sheriff Lewis completed his first round today collectin' taxes. The smile he is wearing is taken as an indication that he is well pleased with results.

Building Catholic Church

Work was begun this week on the erection of a Catholic church located on East Fifth street. The building will be 22 by 40 feet, with a seating capacity of 140. It is expected that the work will be completed by or soon after Christmas.

The Southern Express Company has outgrown itself to such an extent that it became necessary for all passenger trains running between Hamlet and Wilmington to haul express. Train No. 20 brought in for Lumberton proper last night four big truck loads of freight.

The protracted meeting which began at the Methodist churin last Sunday has been well attended all the week and much interest has been manifested. The meeting will close tomorrow night.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve dinner in the commissioners' room in the court house next week, beginning Monday. For 50 cents you get a good dinner and help a good cause, as the proceeds will be applied to church purposes.

Mr. N. H. Jones returned from Wilmington this week after spending several days there being treated by a physician. Mr. Jones' many friends are delighted to know that his condition is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Freeman, who had been spending several weeks in West Virginia, returned home this week. Mr. Freeman says the climate suits him better down here where he doesn't think he is going to freeze out of existence.

Mrs. S. F. Caldwell returned this week from Pulaski, Va., where she had been visiting relatives.

Mrs. T. E. Petty, who had been spending several days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson, left yesterday for Cameron to visit relatives.

Mr. H. E. Plemsants, travelling passenger and freight agent of the Seaboard, spent Thursday here on business.

Old Time Corn Shucking

For the first time in nearly 40 years, the writer visited one night this week an old time corn shucking, which was pulled off at the extreme north end of town, and was a part of the corn crop of Messrs. W. W. Carlyle and Ira Bullard. Your correspondent asked Mr. J. A. Thompson, one of the leading farmers of this section, how much corn was in the pile and he said "just about a thousand bushels." Eighty-four colored men were shucking at one time, besides a number of white people, and one more time this section has heard the old time corn shucking songs. Then that old time supper, home-raised bacon and collards, stewed chicken and rice, barbecued beef, breads of different kinds, potatoes and pies and cakes of various kinds. W. S. W.

WAKE FOREST MOURNS DEATH OF DR. TAYLOR

Faculty, Students and Trustees Attend Funeral

Simple and Impressive Service Held at Home Yesterday, Conducted by Dr. Cullom and Rev. W. N. Johnson—Many Attend.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 6.—Dr. Charles E. Taylor, former president of Wake Forest College and professor of moral philosophy, whose death occurred Friday morning, was buried this morning at 11 o'clock. The funeral service was conducted at the home of the late Dr. Taylor, Rev. W. R. Cullom, D. D., and Rev. Walter N. Johnson, officiating. The service was simple but impressive.

The house was filled with relatives and friends, including the faculty of the college and prominent members of the board of trustees. A long file of students accompanied the remains to the cemetery from the house.

His death has cast a gloom over the college, and has brought keen regret to the community where he has spent practically all of his life. All college class work was suspended yesterday and today.

Dr. Taylor was born in Richmond, Va., October 28, 1842. He was the son of Rev. James B. Taylor. He was educated at the University of Virginia and was holder of the following degrees: B. Litt., University of Virginia, 1870; D. D., Richmond College, 1885; D. Litt., University of North Carolina, 1889; L.L. D., Mercer University, 1904.

Dr. Taylor was one of the most widely known educators of the South, and is author of the following books: "Gilbert Stone," (poem), 1891; "How Far a State May Educate," 1894; "The Story of Yates," 1898.

The deceased did more to modernize Wake Forest College than any other one man since the founding of the institution. His name is written large on the brightest page of Wake Forest history. President Taylor came to Wake Forest in 1870 as an assistant in Latin and German; in 1871 he was made professor of Latin, and in 1884 he was chosen president of the college. At the same time he became professor of moral philosophy. He found the college with a meagre endowment of $40,000, and when he retired from the presidency in 1905, the endowment stood at $286,932. He became president of a faculty of six professors and one tutor; he left in 1905, a faculty of 17 professors, and six assistants. The enrollment increased from 161 to 328. The equipment, too, was greatly increased.

COTTON MULE TRADE GOOD.

St. Louis Dealers Looking for Big Southern Business This Season.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—Indications point to an active season in the cotton mule trade at this market, the largest horse and mule center in the world. Local dealers are advising farmers in Missouri and other Corn Belt territory to feed many cotton mules this fall and get them in good shape for the winter trade.

Last year the South bought scarcely any mules here or at any other market for that matter, owing to the low price in cotton. This season conditions are utterly different and the South is in the market for mules. Already a fair demand has started up from Georgia and the Carolinas, which is unusual so early in the season. There is plenty of feed in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa this year and it is expected that the cotton mules coming to market in the winter will be in good shape.

TURN THIS OVER IN YOUR MIND.

Teach your dollars to have more "cents," by using Larabee's Best Flour. Makes more and better bread.

Gluten is the strength or nutrition in flour. Larabee's Best Flour contains about twenty per cent. more gluten than soft wheat flour.

Our law makers require analysis of nutrition shown on each bag of mill feed sold for horses, cows, sheep, hogs and goats, but are silent as the tomb about analysis on flour for men, women and children. Larabee's Best Flour would show an analysis much richer and better than soft wheat flour.

The rich nutty flavor in Larabee's Best Flour differentiates it from all other flours; it is milled by a special process which retains the natural wheat flavor.

Grandfather's corn meal made by his little water power mill, just over the hill, on a rill, had a special flavor which pleased Bill. "There's a reason." The slow process, crushing the grain.

Larabee's Best Flour is milled from the choice grades of best Kansas hard wheat. Especially prepared for those who are using soft wheat flour for biscuits, rolls, bread, cake and all pastry purposes.

Our wise men at one time thought the world was flat. School children today know it is round. Think and act right about your flour, which through your stomach you transform into blood, bone, muscle, mind and life. Larabee's Best Flour is manufactured by the Larabee Flour Mills Co., Hutchinson, Kansas.

HOW TO AVOID PNEUMONIA

Principles of Right Living That are Highly Recommended

(State Board of Health).

"I am an old man and much afraid of pneumonia. How can I avoid the disease this winter?"

Reply: Pneumonia is a germ disease and is usually brought on by the lodgment of the pneumococcus germs in the membranous tissues of the throat or lungs. If a person is well and strong these germs are not likely to hurt him seriously. A slight cold may be the result. But if he is run down, dissipated, or if he in any way has a weak constitution, his chances are not so slight.

It is not difficult to guard against pneumonia if one will avoid unreasonable exposure and at the same time will practice the rules of personal hygiene or right living.

Working too hard or excessive exercise with extreme exposure is a common factor in preparing the way for pneumonia.

Overeating, particularly if there is an excess of meat in the diet, is another thing which often injures the body and lowers its vital resistance to disease.

Alcohol, in whiskey ,patent medicine or otherwise, is one of the most powerful allies of the pneumonia germ and even moderate drinkers show a much higher death rate from this disease than abstainers do.

But air is, of all bad influences, perhaps the most important in its effect on colds and pneumonia. People who live much in the open air, who never close the windows of their sleeping rooms in winter, and who bathe daily, almost never catch colds, or if they do, the colds are light ones and do not run into pneumonia.

THE DOLLAR CHRISTMAS FUND FOR BELGIANS.

New York, Nov. 4.—Mr. Henry Clews, of Broad street, New York, treasurer of the Dollar Christmas Fund for Destitute Belgians, acknowledges the receipt of a first installment of $4,000 in answer to his second annual appeal.

Scores of letters bear testimony to the wave of sympathy aroused by the sufferings and death of Miss Cavell, the heroic nurse and the increasing desire to alleviate the lot of non-combatants in Belgium. One subscriber wrote: "Last year I gave the fund $25. This year, after reading of Miss Cavell's last hours on earth I subscribe $50." Mr. Clews points out that the conditions in Belgium grow worse as winter approaches and renews his appeal for donations which should be addressed to him as treasurer at 15 Broad street, New York.

The secretary of the fund, Percy Bullen, 66 Broadway, New York, is authorized to send collecting sheets to all responsible persons. Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, now touring Southern states, will give a performance of Hamlet in aid of the Dollar Christmas Fund, while Messrs. Granville Barker and Percy Burton, now producing Bernard Shaw's Androcles and the Lion, have promised the proceeds of two matinees.

WITH THE CLUB WOMEN

Federation News of North Carolina.

By Miss Mary Mosca.

The following interesting and helpful letter has been sent out by Miss Sally Kirby, chairman social service department, to the president of every club in the State doing social service work and will be of interest to every club women:

The field for social service in North Carolina is very large and there are tremendous responsibilities for the women of this State, especially for the members of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs. The work of this department for the coming year naturally divides itself into two groups:

First: Local social service, which may be accomplished by the individual clubs, each in its own community and extending out into the rural districts.

Second: State-wide undertakings, which may be promoted by the federation as a whole.

Under the first group, I would suggest that each club undertake some definite social service according to local needs, such as the following:

First: That the members of each club familiarize themselves with the conditions in the county home, jails and convict camps, and that the women call the attention of the public to unfavorable conditions wherever found.

Second: That each club have a special committee appointed to attend the trials of all women and all juvenile offenders—the juvenile judges are always glad to have the help and cooperation which club women may give.

Third: That each club get from our civic departments suggestions for awakening an interest in public playgrounds for children. One club in the federation started a playground campaign with splendid results; that town has now probably the best public playground in the State.

Fourth: That each club make an effort to secure dental and health inspection in the local public schools and co-operate with our health department in its efforts to promote public health.

Fifth: If the need is sufficient in the locality, it is earnestly hoped that each club will do its part in bringing into the town or community, a visiting nurse. Several clubs in the federation are either entirely supporting, or partially supporting, such a nurse, and already splendid results are being achieved.

Under the second group, which embraces the federation as a whole, I would suggest three special lines of work:

First: A campaign throughout the State for better moving picture shows. Every club woman in North Carolina realizes the tremendous influence of the moving pictures and their possibility for both good and evil. Since the moving picture theatre seems to be a permanent factor in our present day civilization, why not turn this great form of amusement into a channel which will be worth while for the child and which will be of educational value? To supervise, control and direct the amusements of children is within the province of women. It is not sufficent that the moving pictures presented to our children be passed by the National board of censors; it is even more necessary that these pictures be censored by the mothers and teachers of children.

Second: The establishment of an Industrial School for Neglected Girls. That our State has no such school shows a sad neglect of our duty toward the unfortunate. It surely behooves the women of North Carolina to start a movement which will awaken interest in the girl who lacks the restraining influences of a good home, and whose future years have only weakness and disgrace in store for her. I would that each club woman could have this school so on her heart and mind that when the Legislature meets in 1917, that body of lawmakers would be prompted to give the neglected girls of this State a chance to save themselves. Does your club keep a record of the girls in your community who could be helped by such a school? Many States have these schools; and delinquent, incorrigible and neglected girls are cared for between the ages of seven and seventeen years. This school in the end would be of tremendous economic value to our State, but its best and highest value would be the girls themselves.

Third: That each club make a study of the laws of North Carolina regarding child labor, and that each club do all in its power to bring about an improved standard in child labor laws.

If your club is sufficiently interested in this great problam of the employment of children in this State, I would suggest that your club set apart one special meeting to be devoted to this subject. As club women we should acquaint ourselves more fully with this great problem. Mr. W. H. Swift, of Greensboro, can give valuable information, and Mr. Swift can provide an interesting speaker on the subject of child labor should your club want such a speaker.

The social service department of the federation needs the help of all good club women. We have great things to accomplish, and much work which can be done only by women, and the women of North Carolina have never yet failed in any great cause which they have undertaken. The work of this department has been arranged in several divisions, with the following club women acting on the various committees. These sub-chairmen will be glad to render assistance to you and give you any information they can.

1. Child labor laws in North Carolina: Mrs. M. M. Marks, Newbern; Mrs. A. H. Powell, Oxford.

2. Public playgrounds and amusements (with special reference to moving pictures): Mrs. A. Fairbrother, Greensboro; Mrs. Ernest Cruikshank, Raleigh; Mrs. J. S. Holmes, Chapel Hill.

3. Visiting nurse and travelers' Aid: Mrs. Nathan Lazarus, Morganton; Miss Clara Cox, High Point.

4. Establishment of Industrial school for neglected girls. Mrs. George Stanton, Wilson; Miss Helene Weil, Goldsboro.

I should like to call your attention to the publication, "The Social Service Quarterly," published in Raleigh by the North Carolina oSial Service League. The subscription is $1.00 a yera. The quarterly keeps one in touch with all the social service work done by various organizations throughout the State and devotes a goodly space to the work of the club women.

I want to remind you ofthe meeting of the North Carolina Social Service Conference which will probably be held in Charlotte in January, 1916. Please urge your club to send you as many delegates as possible to this conference. This is one of the very best organizations in the State. The conference needs the federation and the federation needs the conference.

As chairman of this dpartment, I am ready to serve your club whenever I can. I shall be glad to offer suggestions regarding social service programmes, and speak of the social service work before your club at any convenient time.

Cordially yours,
SALLY S. KIRBY,
Goldsboro, N. C., Chairman Social Service Department North Carolina Federation Women's Clubs.

Social Service.

Mrs. Ernest Criukshank, of the Play Grounds and Amusement Committee of the Social Service Department, has prepared the following interesting paper outlining the development and success of the Raleigh Play Grounds, that other towns facing this problem might receive benefit therefrom. I am sure all towns contemplating the establishment of play grounds will be very much interested in this article, and that Mrs. Cruikshank will be glad to give them any further information that they may desire.

After more than a year of successful work, following upon six years of struggle to establish a system of public play grounds in Raleigh, it is believed that an account of these efforts and the present status of the play grounds as it has been worked out in Raleigh, will be of interest and use to other towns.

The movement for Play Grounds in Raleigh was begun about six years ago by the Woman's Club, co-operating with others, all of whom realized that the children of the city were not properly provided for in their leisure hours, and that the streets were not the place for their undirected play. The Social Service Department of the Women's Club wrote to the American Play Grounds and Recreation Association, asking them to send down one of their field secretaries. This association advised that the movement be taken up by the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce, as they were more likely to secure appropriations for the establishment of a play ground.

Interest in the movement did nat die, but the next step taken was in January, 1914, when Dr. Cyrus Stimson, of the Play Grounds and Recreation Association, addressed the Raleigh branch of the North Carolina Conference for Social Service on play ground work for the purpose of developing a system of public recreation in Raleigh. A committee from this organization was appointed to take the matter up with the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and ask the Chamber of Commerce to make request of the American Play Grounds Association to send a field secretary to Raleigh to make recreation survey, no money being pledged, but to be raised by voluntary gifts. On January 14th, 1914, the Chamber of Commerce, by resolution, extended to the Play Grounds and Recreation Association of America an invitation to send one of their field secretaries, and pledged the endorsement and co-operation of the chamber.

Mr. Walter Pettit was sent down in June, 1914, and spent several weeks interesting the people in the movement, and in getting the different organizations of the city to agree to ask the City Commissioners for an appropriation for the work. A committee from the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Association, and Social Service branch appeared before the commissioners, and the result was an appropriation of $2,500 toward the establishment and maintenance of a play ground. At the same time it was decided that a play ground commission should be appointed to direct and supervise the work, the members of the commission to be as follows: President of the Chamber of commerce, President of the Woman's club, President of the Merchants' Association, a member of the School Committee of Raleigh Township.

The first step in the work of organization was the selection of a supervisor. Under his direction the equipment was bought and erected upon the Centennial School grounds, that being the largest and most centrally located. The Play Ground was opened August 26, 1914.

Superintendent F. M. Harper, of the City Schools (an advisory member of the commission) assisted Mr. L. E. Lashman, the present supervisor, in getting in touch with the pupils in all the schools. The Children were urged to attend regularly, and the teachers were asked to use their influence in impressing upon the pupils the value of outdoor play. As a result of this appeal, the attendance at once increased from 40 to 50 children a day to over 200 a day, with a maximum attendance of 316 in one day.

To further stimulate interest and increase the attendance, a system of training in running and jumping and other athletic sports was begun by the supervisor. Wednesday afternoon was set apart as a general contest day, when a number of sports were participated in by the children, the winner in each event receiving a ribbon.

The hours for opening and closing were at first from 4:00 to 5:30. These were changed to 3:00 for the opening and 6:00 for the closing. During the summer months the work of the playground was broadened. The hours were from 9:00 in the morning till 7:00 in the evening. A diamond was laid out for the older boys, and interesting match games were held every morning from 9:00 till 12:00. Tennis tournaments were held every Friday afternoon.

In June the Play Grounds Commission appropriated $25 to be used for industrial work materials. This work formed the most interesting phase of the summer activities. About 75 boys and girls engaged in industrial work, making many pretty and original designs in baskets of reed and raffia, even the little children making simple articles. For the boys, besides the work in baskets, there were woodwork classes ,in which they made tool chests, flower stands, tabourets, checker boards, etc. The supervisor considers that $25 would not have been spent to better advantage, as the children not only have had pleasant hours of activity, but were also learning something useful.

During the summer the supervisor assumed control of the Boy Scouts of the city. The Scouts were pledged to the support of the recreation commission, and the organization has taken on new life.

At this same time the Camp Fire Girls were organized, and about thirty-five girls were enrolled at the first meeting.

Other organizations undertaken by the supervisor are a walking club, intended chiefly for the teachers; a tennis club for married women living near the school grounds; a dramatic club; and a music club; with perhaps a debating and civic club. These clubs are neighborhood work of the very best kind, and already the results from them are valuable. They show how the work of the playground has extended itself, and what big possibilities there are in this sort of work.

The play ground is in Raleigh for good. It had prejudices to overcome but these have disappeared. The people in the neighborhood of the other schools are all clamoring for play ground centers in their section of the town, and as soon as funds from the city are available, other grounds will be fitted out. The expense for this is comparatively small, and, as the people are now realizing, the return is of a value that is incalculable.

In preparing this paper, the writer is indebted to the Secretary of Chamber of Commerce. Miss Bessie Hackney, for all data.

Education Department

The following interesting report, with suggestions, has been submitted for publication by Mrs. R. H. Latham, chairman committee on school co-operation of the Education Department.

With the schools and colleges filled at the beginning of the fall term, and with an intense interest in education manifesting itself throughout our Old North State, one cannot but feel that the day must be hastening when we shall see a new education awakening in North Carolina.

Is there a better way of raising the educational standard than by improving the public schools? can any class of citizens be more interested in this phase of State activity than women who have their children's life interest at heart, and for this reason are awake to the best that can be had for these same children? Since the majority of club women are mothers, there is no surer ground for club work than school co-operation. Many ways can be found for advancing the usefulness of the school so far as pupils are concerned, and some of these can ve accomplished by intelligent planning on the part of club members for the co-operation of school authorities.

In the schools of one progressive town of the State a year ago no domestic science was taught. A proposition came from the club women to the school board offering to equip a kitchen for the school if a teacher were provided. Their challenge was accepted and the teacher secured. The women set out to find the money for the kitchen, strong in faith and united in purpose. The result was that the proceeds from one opera brought more than the needed amount and today that town boasts the best equipped domestic science laboratory in the entire State. The practical training received by girls is sufficient reward to those who worked so faithfully. Manual training for boys could be secured in much the same way.

As a means of inciting pupils to take pride in sanitary and beautiful premises, clubs could offer prizes for the best kept or best improved grounds managing the contest in any way that seemed practical. Such a form of work is closely related to Junior Civics. If need is felt for more sightly school grounds, could not a movement be planned and carried out by the club membership working with the school board or superintendent? No better way of serving a community can be imagined than by providing suitable playgrounds for children—either at or near the school. The only drawback to such a move is the expense involved in buying apparatus and providing a supervisor who is well equipped for such work, for without the latter a playground is an absolute failure. Club women can find a means to supply this, as well as other equipment.

In this day when the moving picture house occupies the center of the stage, and is patronized very largely by school children, a censorship of pictures backed by united effort on the part of club women, will prove very beneficial to the moral of the young people who are often confronted with sights that leave unpleasant questions in their minds. This promises a fruitful field for any club in any town that boasts a "Movie" Theatre, and it can be accomplished if the women demand it.

Last, but by no means least, comes the question of medical and dental inspection. All to frequently the mind is the one thing considered in a child's school career. Today there are children in school too sick to learn, who stay in the rear ranks because they are physically defective. Alas, too often they are considered stupid! Might not some woman's club have a new vision for these unfortunates, and by co-operating with the school superintendents and soliciting aid from the doctors and dentists find the defect and give them a fair chance. This has been done under the direction of club members in several places with wonderful results, and the pity is that every town does not require this inspection.

Let the activities of the women's clubs of the North Carolina Federation during this year comprise some of these lines of community service, and the result will certainly be guaranteed in better citizens for a better State.

IT'S FLORA M'DONALD COLLEGE

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—It's Flora McDonald College now, final steps to change the name of the Southern Presbyterian College and Conservatory of Music, at Red Springs, having been taken yesterday when following the action of the Presbyteries of Orange and Fayetteville in the Synod of North Carolina, certificate of change of name was filed with the Secretary of State. The Scottish Society of America of which Governor Locke Craig is now president is in the midst of a campaign to raise an endowment for the institution at Red Springs.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Wilmington man is confirmed after seven years.

L. H. Partin, grocer, Market and Ninth Sts., Wilmington, says: "My back was weak and lame and I had pains across my loins. The kidney secretions were very highly colored, painful in passage and contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Bellamy's Drug Store, acted just as represented. They cleared up the kidney secretions and stopped the pain in passing them. I was also relieved of the aches and pains in my back and loins."

The above statement was given February 25, 1908, and on April 5, 1915, Mr. Partin said: "I have never found anything equal to Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney disorders. Just as soon as I notice that my kidneys are not acting as they should, I take Doan's Kidney Pills for a few days, and they never fail to do good work."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Partin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Special Fitting Of

Gossard Corsets

Two Weeks

November 8th to 22nd, inclusive

Through a special arrangement with the H. W. Gossard Company of Chicago, we have engaged Miss Ethel M. Christy of their organization, to assist our corsetiere in a special demonstration of Gossard Corsets.

The radical change in styles this season from the slinker slouch to the erect, well-poised, somewhat military form, calls for considerable care and attention in the fitting of your corset.

There is a decided tendency toward the adoption of a smaller waist this season and a fitted bodice, with a return to the full skirts of former periods. All of this has a direct bearing on your corset. Authentic information regarding these new styles is yours for the asking during this demonstration.

Your can come and be fitted to any of the newer models and make your selections at a later date, if you so desire. Whether you expect to purchase your corset at this time or not, we suggest that you arrange to attend this demonstration.

While the original front-lacing Gossard Corsets sold at $25.00 some ten years ago, increased manufacturing facilities and international distribution have reduced the price until now you can purchase a Gossard Corset for as little as $5.00, $3.50 and $2.50.

It will be a privilege to serve you and to have you visit our Corset Department some time during this demonstration.

COTTON DROPS STILL LOWER

Prices Fall to New Low Ground for the Present Movement—January Closed at 11.37 and Spot, 11.65.

New York, Nov. 6.—There was a sharp break in the cotton market today with prices making new low ground for the movement under continued liquidation, Southern and local selling. January contracts sold off to 11.54 or $1.55 per bale under the best price reached on the rally of yesterday morning, and closed at 11.57. The general list closed steady at a net decline of 9 to 20 points.

The market opened at a decline of 7 to 11 points in response to a relatively easy cables and soon sold 11 to 13 points under last night's closing figures.

There appeared to be quite a demand o nthe basis of 12 cents for May contracts with this buying again attributed partly to spinners' calling and the market steadied up 3 or 4 points from the lowest on covering, but quickly weakened again on private cables reporting that a prominent international firm had again raised its estimate of the Indian crop which it now placed at 6,300,000 bales, including the carry-over from last season. Selling became more general and urgent on this second break and stop orders were uncovered on the decline which carried December contracts off to 11.41, March to 11.75 and May to 11.90 or 21 to 23 points net lower. The close was 3 to 4 points up from the lowest on covering.

Predictions of full ginnings returns on Monday doubtless inspired part of the selling. Most of the overnight advices from the South indicated a firm spot situation in the interior, but emphasized the firmness of holders other than the extent of the demand and late in the morning there were rather less favorable advices from Memphis.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Heavy Selling With Decline in Prices of 18 to 20 Points.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—There was a lively week-end session in the cotton market today, trading being brisk from start to finish. Prices were held at the decline, closing within a point of the lowest, at a net loss of 18 to 20 points. Selling seemed about equally divided between the two accounts and to be inspired chiefly by expectations of heavy ginning returns in Monday's report from the census bureau.

The market opened steady but fell 10 to 14 points in the early trading. Cables were not high enough and the weather map was considered perfect. After brief hesitation, selling orders increased and prices sagged again, the market acquiring a significant tone later in the day.

Bears called attention to the comparatively small mill takings for the week, the exceedingly small export movement and claimed that the weather was adding materially to the size of the crop. They also made much of an Indian crop estimate of 6,600,000 bales, including a carry-over of 900,000 bales, by a well known foreign firm.

On the decline moderate fresh long buying came in, being encouraged by reports from several portions of the belt that short holders were as firm as ever. Memphis reported an improved demand. By some bulls the theory was held that powerful interests were forcing the market lower in order to establish a better buying basis.

Cotton closed easy. Closing bids: December 11.30; January 11.46; March 11.71; May 11.88; July 11.98.

Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot 215 bales; to arrive 275 bales; middling 11.37.

WHEAT PRICES UNSETTLED

Bears Have Advantage on Predictions of Increase in Visible Supply—Close Was at Fraction Lower.

Chicago, Nov. 6. — Predictions of a liberal increase of the visible supply total on Monday gave an advantage today to the bears in wheat and as also did a good deal of wild guessing about the reasons for the departure of Earl Kitchener from London.

The market closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ½c. lower, with December at $1.04¼@⅜, and May at $1.05⅛.

Corn closed a shade off to ¼@⅜c. up, oats at a sixteenth down to a like advance, and provisions unchanged to 35c. higher.

LOSSES IN ACTIVE STOCKS

Selling, Mainly for Professional Account, was Renewed—European Conditions Disquieting.

New York, Nov. 6.—Selling of stocks, mainly for professional account, was renewed today and continued with little interruption throughout the short session. The movement was accompanied by disquieting rumors concerning European conditions. Losses embraced almost every part of the active list, coppers alone manifesting relative steadiness. Trading was light with an utter lack of public interest.

London's market was closed, but there were further sales of our stocks and bonds for "future" delivery. Canadian Pacific fell 2 3-8 to 183; and other rails, including Great Northern, St. Paul and Eastern trunk lines, about a point each. Reading's extreme loss of 1 1-4 to 82 1-4 was ascribed to the sudden death of a prominent capitalist identified with that road.

War shares yielded more or less severely to moderate pressure. United States Steel receded moderately. It fell 3-8 to 85 3-4 and closed at 86. Various miscellaneous shares were heavy to weak.

Business advices were of the same cheerful tenor as those recently issued, especial stress being laid on two features of that situation, the ever widening activity of trade and increased momentum in many industries.

Bonds were lower on small inquiry. Total sales (par value) aggregated $8,220,000. United States and Panama bonds were 1-4 to 3-4 per cent. higher on call during the week.

WEEKLY COTTON GOODS.

Weaker Cotton Market Has Softened Prices in Gray Goods.

New York, Nov. 6.—Weaker cotton markets have had the effect of softening prices in gray cotton goods and yarns to some extent, but it has not checked the readjustment of values on finished goods to the levels of 12 cents cotton from 9 cents. Prints have been advanced 1-4c a yard and there has been a further advance in percale lines. Jobbers are confirming their orders at higher prices on staple ginghams, tickings, and some lines of fine cottons. Fleeced cottons for the manufacturing trades were opened for fall 1916 during the week, and at the higher price ranges running from 1c to 1 1-2c a yard advance, larger orders than last year are being put down. Cotton duck continues in active demand. Cotton mills are better employed than they have been in many years.

Quotations: Print cloths, 28 inch 64x64s, 3 5-8c; 64x60s, 3 1-2c; 38 1-2 inch 64x64s, 4 3-4c; brown sheetings, Southern standards, 7 1-2c; tickings, 8 ounce, 12 1-2c; denims, 9 ounce, 14 1-2c; standard prints, 5 1-2c; staple ginghams, 6 3-4c; dress ginghams, 8 1-2c.

NEW YORK PROVISIONS.

New York, Nov. 6. — Sugar—Raw, firm; centrifugal, 4.58; molasses, 3.81; refined, steady.

Butter—Steady.

Cheese—Firm.

Coffee—Spot, firm. Rio, No. 7, 7⅞; Santos, No. 4, 9½.

RESERVE BANK STATEMENT.

Washington, Nov. 6. — Reserve deposits of the Federal Reserve banks increased by about $2,500,000 during the week, according to a statement of the banks' condition November 5, issued today by the Federal Reserve board.

NEW YORK DRY GOODS.

New York, Nov. 6. — Cotton goods, steadier today, and yarns quiet. Burlaps, very firm. Linens are growing scarce in first hands. Knit goods were active and dress goods, firm.

State Loses Heavily.

On this fourth floor were 40-odd thousand volumes of Supreme Court reports, the property of the State and valued at $45,000. They sell for $1.50 per volume. Also the State had $6,000 worth of miscellaneous law books and a great quantity of State papers and old records, principally from the State Treasury and the Auditor's office. All this was totally destroyed. Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young is authority for the statement that there was only $18,000 insurance on the entire property of the State burned.

1ST ADD RALEIGH FIRE. ... ...

State's Color Plates Lost.

An especially notable loss to the State is all the fine color plates and forms for the North Carolina "Bird Books" that State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt and his assistants have been working on for several years and which was to have been issued within the next few weeks. It was to give color plate reproductions of every variety of bird ever found in North Carolina and is considered an especially valuable and expensive publication. The color plates alone cost the State $2,500. The whole thing is a total loss now.

It is believed that the fire and water damage today, all told, will round out $350,000 or $400,000. The insurance is nothing like that amount.

The Loss by Former Fire.

The News and Observer building, one of the few really modern newspaper plants in the South, was first completed and occupied in the spring of 1907.

It contained commodious editorial and business rooms, a new type of Hoe press, a complete stereotyping plant, a complete electrical installation, and a battery of six linotypes.

On the evening of April 24, 1913, fire which was supposed to have started in a heap of rubbish in the basement, gutted the building while the fire department made vain efforts to bring it under control from 6 o'clock until 9 in the evening. The antiquated waterworks system then in Raleigh failed at the crisis and the department attempted to use the old steamer, which worked well until, to add to the troubles, a water main burst. It was largely due to this failure of the water supply that the loss was as great as it was, being estimated at about $35,000 above an insurance of $40,000, making the actual money loss in the neighborhood of $75,000.

INSURANCE COMPANIES ACT

Ask Leave to Institute Suit Against Wake Water Company.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—Counsel for fire insurance companies made a motion before Judge Peebles in the Superior court today for leave by the court to institute suit against the old Wake Water Company for $110,951.48 that The News and Observer Publishing Company was shown to have lost in the first fire that destroyed the newspaper plant on April 24, 1913. It is remarkable that this move should have come on the day the new building was burned.

This litigation grows out of the old charge that the building burned because of poor pressure at the city water plant that was then owned by the Wake Water Company. The insurance companies paid their losses to The News and Observer Publishing Company, which also had a suit against the Water Company for damages that was compromised for $12,000. The real effort of the insurance companies in the litigation now sought to be instituted is to recover the insurance the companies paid The News and Observer Publishing Company.

FUNERAL OF MRS. COWAN

Services From St. James' Episcopal Church Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah S. Cowan, widow of the late Davis S. Cowan, who died suddenly Thursday morning in Savannah, Ga., while on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Hull, was conducted from St. James' Episcopal church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the rector, Rev. Dr. William H. Milton. There were many sorrowing friends in attendance and a profusion of beautiful floral tributes. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. E. C. Hull, of Savannah; S. G. Pulliam, Haughton James, R. C. James, Theodore James and Clarence James.

Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hull and their son and daughter, Mr. E. C. Hull and Miss Sarah Hull, the remains arrived in Wilmington early yesterday morning on the late train from from the South and were taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. G. Pulliam, No. 17, South Fourth street.

RESUME NIGHT SERVICES

Rev. W. E. Cox to Begin Series of Sermons at St. John's Church.

Night services at St. John's Episcopal church, Third and Red Cross streets, will be resumed tonight at 7:45 o'clock, and will continue through the winter. The Sunday night sermons will be a progressive study of the elements of character portrayed in the daily life of our Lord as well as in His preaching and teaching. For this opening service a special musical programme has been prepared, and the service will be one of special praise and worship. A hearty invitation is extended, and an equally hearty welcome awaits all who wish to attend these services.

MRS. J. C. ROWELL DEAD.

Wife of Venerable Brunswick Citizen Passes at Advanced Age—Funeral.

Many friends will hear with regret of the death of Mrs. J. C. Rowell, wife of the venerable Mr. J. C. Rowell, of Phoeniy, Brunswick county, which occurred at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family home near Phoenix. Mrs. Rowell had reached the advanced age of 80 years and three months. She was a woman of high Christian character and had been a member of Goshen Baptist church, in Brunswick county, since she was a girl. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at West-Moore cemetery, where the interment will be made. Friends of the sorrowing ones extend their sympathy in their bereavement.

WILL SPEAK ON FOREIGN WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A

Mr. Eugene Barnett, of China, Will Make Address in This City Tuesday.

The members of the Young Men's Christian Association are looking forward with much pleasure to the coming of Mr. Eugene E. Barnett, secretary of the Hangchow, China, Young Men's Christian Association, who has been their representative there for a number of years and who is at present in this country making plans for the opening of the splendid building which is to be erected in Hangchow this winter. Mr. Barnett brings with him Mr. J. M. Clinton, now a member of the foreign department of the International Committee in New York, who for several years was connected with Y. M. C. A. work in the Orient.

Both these men are well acquainted with all phases of life in the East and their thrilling addresses on China and Japan keep their audiences spellbound.

The Local Committee is arranging for them to meet with the different groups of association members and the public will be given an opportunity to hear them Tuesday night at the association building. Both ladies and gentlemen will be welcome at this meeting.

CARE IN MARKETING

Mr. John F. Klein Scores Well With Fall Crop of Tomatoes.

Farm demonstrators and horticulturists all over the world have been preaching the doctrine of improved marketing the past year or two, but it has been reserved for Mr. John F. Klein, of East Wilmington, to turn a trick in improved marketing that has paid him handsome dividends. This year Mr. Klein has had a crop of very fine tomatoes to ripen early in November, which is unusually late, and he has applied the new idea in horticulture by carefully selecting his stock packing them neatly in paper bags and placing them on the local market in this attractive form. Thus selected and properly packed Mr. Klein has been able to sell them readily right here in Wilmington for $5 per crate. And the beauty about it, he is still selling them and his November tomato crop will be a very profitable one for him.

KITCHENER GOES TO THE SCENE OF FIGHTING

Will Make Short Visit to Eastern Theatre of War.

London, Nov. 6.—Lord Kitchener, at the request of his colleagues, has left England for a short visit to the eastern theatre of war. This announcement, made this evening after a cabinet council—an unusual meeting for Saturday—and a long audience with Premier Asquith had with the king, set at rest the rumors current as to the war secretary's present intentions.
